More Insurrectionary Literature—The Elections Postponed—L'Admirault to Command the Troops—An American Killed—Death of Vinoy Rumored—Disturbance at Lyons—Troops to be Raised—The People Fleeing in Terror—The Rebels Preparing for a Desperate Encounter.

LONDON, March 24.—The Insurrectionary Central Committee have issued a proclamation postponing the election in Paris until after energetic measures have caused their reclaimed rights to be respected.

At a meeting of the Mayors and Deputy Mayors of Paris, Admiral Soisset was appointed Commander-in-Chief of the National Guards of the city, with General Langlais Chief of Staff, and Victor Schoelger Chief of Artillery. The appointment of Admiral Soisset has inspired confidence among the friends of order.

The Belleville Nationals have occupied the Mairies in Rue Donant and the first arrondissement of Paris, after a long negotiation with the Nationals of that quarter with whom a number of Louvres and Guards Mobiles of the Seine were seen. The Mobiles demand arms to fight the insurgents, who have barricaded the Place Vendome.

L'Admirault will probably succeed Vinoy in the military command.

The Nationals have expelled the insurgents from part of the eighth arrondissement, comprising the Faubourg St. Honore; also the second arrondissement, which comprises the Place de la Bourse; and the ninth arrondissement, comprising Rue Dronant. They then occupied Saint Lugave Station, and asked the government at Versailles for a reinforcement of troops to retake the railway crossing, where the insurgents control the traffic.

Among the victims of the affair in the Place Vendome was an American named George Tinnel.

At noon yesterday Paris was quiet and the Bourse was closed.

It was rumored that Ducrot had been shot by his own soldiers.

A disturbance has been reported at Lyons, where some of the people have proclaimed a commune and raised the red flag.

Thiers has telegraphed to the Prefects to set at work the anarchists of Lyons, and give credit for the purpose at the sitting of the Assembly on Wednesday.

It is said that it has been decided to hold the municipal elections in Paris before the 10th of April. Military measures against Paris are also projected.

Charetee, who is in Versailles, has been commissioned to raise a volunteer legion in the west of France, and has issued an appeal to the defenders of order and religion to join the ranks.

A dispatch to the News says that the people are flying from Paris terror-stricken, and that the rebels are preparing for a desperate encounter to recover their lost ground.

The Insurgents Unable to Carry the Regular Troops With Them.

LONDON, March 24.—The Times' special dispatch from Versailles says the Montmartreists have stopped a train en route with prisoners to Versailles, and released the prisoners. The Sixty-ninth regiment of the line resisted all efforts to induce them to join the insurgents, and upon their arrival at Versailles were received enthusiastically by the authorities, people and troops. Their officers were at once promoted. The insurgents' committee has arrested one of its own officers, namely, Lullier.

Early Restoration of Order Predicted.

LONDON, March 24.—Lord Lyons telegraphed the Government that he is confident of the early restoration of order in Paris.

Paris Quiet.

PARIS, March 24.—Paris is quiet to-day. The shops are all closed, and there are but few pedestrians on the streets. The Civic Guard at Marseilles have seized the telegraph in that vicinity, and the service toward Spain is stopped.

Proceedings of the Assembly.

VERSAILLES, March 23.—In the National Assembly to-day, the Government proposed a loan for the organization of volunteers, which was adopted. Under its terms, every department of France is to send to Versailles immediately a battalion of volunteers for support of the Government. A proposition for the appointment of a committee of fifteen members of the Assembly to proceed to Paris and to assist in restoring order was favorably considered. Several Mayors of arrondissements in Paris who were compelled to find safety in flight from the city were invited to seats in the Assembly. As they entered the Chambers there was great applause from the deputies of the Left, while those of the Right protested against the action of the body. A scene of tumult ensued lasting until adjournment.

National Guard Ordered to Support the Government—The Prussians Will Not Interfere—They are Suspected of Complicity with the Insurgents.

LONDON, March 24.—The Minister of the Interior has notified the National Guards at Rouen to make preparations to defend the government against the insurrection. Gen. Schlottem, Prussian commander of St. Denis, has sent a dispatch to the commander of Paris, to the effect that the Germans occupying the forts on the north and northeastern sides of the city will maintain a passive and friendly attitude, while nothing hostile was done, but if the conditions of the preliminaries of peace are overstepped, Paris will be treated as an enemy. The Delegate Minister of Foreign Affairs replied that the revolutionary proceedings in Paris are purely as to municipal affairs, and can in no sense be regarded as aggressive towards Germany. The Delegate adds, he has not jurisdiction and cannot dismiss matters in reference to the preliminaries of peace, which were voted by the Assembly at Bordeaux.

The official journal of the insurrection threatens that all writers for the press who attack the Central Committee will be brought before that body for trial. The same journal announces that all officials who do not return to their posts before the 27th of March will be discharged.

The Debats contains a bold article which bears the signature of Lemaitre, attacking the National Government in scathing language for its apathy toward the insurrection.

Admiral Soisse was present with the friends of order at the Place Vendome Wednesday, and fortunately was not wounded by the fire of the insurgent Nationals.

The Debats says in the encounter Wednesday evening some insurgents fired into each other, and several were wounded. Henri Pere, editor of one of the Paris journals, received a bullet in his side, and his life is despaired of.

The orderly Nationals have determined to incorporate regular soldiers in Paris into their ranks. The Versailles Government intends making an appeal to the National and Mobile Guards of the departments for the support and maintenance of order.

One of the Paris deputies who held a parley with the insurgents at the Hotel de Ville, Paris, says the Insurrectionary Committee is losing the upper hand over its own men.

General Letlo, who had tendered his resignation as Minister of War, has withdrawn it.

The orderly National Guards now occupy the space between Rue Richelieu, the Boulevard and Rue Montmartre, Rue des Halles, Rue du Portneuf, Rue St. Germain, L'Auxerrois and Rue de Rivoli. The mairie of the first arrondissement is defended by two guns.

The insurgents in the Place Vendome were reenforced Thursday with two guns. The insurgents have occupied the mairie of the arrondissement Du Pantheon. They failed to seduce the scholars of the Polytechnique, who have obtained a week's holiday and joined the orderly nationals in the Place de la Bourse, where there is a large force, and great vigilance, in expectation of an attack from the insurgents. The Montmartreites and insurgents generally are in ecstacies over the friendliness exhibited in general Schiathen's dispatch, while the partisans suspect complicity on the part of the Prussians with the insurgents.

The London Telegraph's special dispatch gives the justification published by the commander of the insurgent nationals of the massacre in the Place Vendome. He says the people who made the demonstration against his forces provoked them by yells of derision, and fired first, killing one of his command.

Reaction in Favor of the Empire.

[Special to the World.]

PARIS, March 24.—The reaction in favor of the Empire gains strength hourly, and unless Thiers speedily restores order, the French may endeavor to find their way to Chiselhurst.

STATE LEGISLATURES.

Wisconsin.

MADISON, March 24.—The Wisconsin Legislature practically closed its session to-day. Final adjournment takes place to-morrow. The veto of Governor Fairchilds of Dill's improvement bill was sustained in the Assembly by a vote of 32 to 33. The Senate appointed a committee to investigate the reported corruption in the passage of the bill, and also what influences, if any, were brought to bear on the Governor, to report to the next Legislature.

NEWS SUMMARY

BY TELEGRAPH.

O'Donovan Rossa lectured at Case Hall, Cleveland, last night, to a large audience. He flanked the receptionists by slipping into the city unannounced.

A collision occurred on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad at Cleveland, yesterday morning, which came near being disastrous in its consequences. As it was, one employe had a leg broken and another was seriously injured.

The Legislative and other visitors to Cincinnati yesterday partook of a collation at George H. Pendleton's residence, visited various places of interest, witnessed a parade of the fire department, and were entertained last night by C. W. Woolley.

Hon. Joseph Medill and wife have returned to Chicago from their Southern tour.

James Holley, aged seventy, was run over by a railroad train near Howard, Ill., on Thursday, and was torn to pieces.

The people of Ottawa, Ill., held a meeting Thursday night, and resolved that the State capital should be removed from Springfield to Peoria.

A few days since, at High Prairie, near Leavenworth, Kansas, while John Celf was engaged in clearing out a well the walls caved in and buried him deep in the earth. Everybody supposed he was crushed to death, and the process of digging him out was very slow. Five days after the accident he was reached, and found to be alive. As soon as he was taken out he declared himself all right, drank a glass of whisky, ate some food and smoked a pipe. Several hours after he commenced sinking, and soon died without a struggle.

Senator Sherman has written a letter to the Cincinnati Enquirer, denying that he has "made political pay." He is worth but a small fraction of a million, and is not relatively richer, considering the increased value of property, than when he became a Senator. He invites Mr. Faran to visit his home at Mansfield, inspect his possessions, and if he (Sherman) cannot account for all without being suspected of receiving bribes, gifts or stealing, Faran can repeat his base accusations with an easy conscience.

The flood in Oregon is subsiding.

The First National Go. Bank of San Francisco has commenced issuing notes.

A Proclamation by the President.

Unlawful Organizations in South Carolina Ordered to Disperse—The Military To Be Used in Case of Disobedience.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 24, 1871.

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, It is provided in the Constitution of the United States that the United States shall protect every State in this Union on application of the Legislature, or of the Executive when the Legislature cannot be convened, against domestic violence; and whereas, it is provided in the laws of the United States that in all cases of insurrection in any State, or of obstruction to the laws thereof, it shall be lawful for the President of the United States, on application of the Legislature of said State or Executive, when the Legislature cannot be convened, to call forth the military of any States, and employ such part of the land and naval forces as shall be judged necessary for the purpose of suppressing such insurrection, or causing the laws to be duly executed; and, whereas, I have received information that combinations of armed men, unauthorized by law, are now disturbing the peace and safety of citizens of the State of South Carolina, and committing acts of violence in said State, of a character and to an extent which render the power of the State and its officers unequal to the task of protecting life and property and securing public order therein; and whereas, the legislature of said State is not now in session, and cannot be convened in time to meet the present emergency, and the Executive of said State has, therefore, made application to me for such part of the military force of the United States as may be necessary and adequate to protect said State and citizens thereof against domestic violence herein before mentioned, and enforce the due execution of the laws; and whereas, the laws of the United States require, whenever it may be necessary in the judgment of the President to use the military force for the purpose aforesaid, that he shall forthwith, by proclamation, command such insurgents to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes within a limited time.

Now, therefore, I, Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, do hereby command the persons composing the unlawful combinations aforesaid to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes within twenty days from this date. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 24th day of March, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and seventy-one, and of the independence of the United States the ninety-fifth.

Proceedings of the Senate.

Report on the Investigation Into the Troubles in the Anthracite Region—Arbitration Recommended—Bill to Incorporate the Paper Printing Company—The Dead Lock—The Session Likely to Last Until May.

Special to the Pittsburgh Press.

HARRISBURG, PA., March 24, 1871.

SENATE.

Report on the Anthracite Coal Investigation.

The Senate Judiciary General Committee submitted a long preliminary report on the anthracite coal investigation, amounting substantially to a discussion of the disputes between labor and capital, each of which, to some extent, had encroached on the other, recommending boards of arbitration in the anthracite region, embracing an equal number from each interest, to settle the disputes between laborers and employers, as in England. The evidence before the committee is not yet completed. The Senate indorsed the recommendation by ordering three thousand copies printed.

Bills Introduced.

By Mr. Graham—Authorizing Allegheny City to purchase any parts of plank or turnpike roads within said city.

By Mr. Anderson—Authorizing the Treasurer of Allegheny county to pay over certain balances to the Treasurer of the Central Board of Education of Pittsburgh and settle with the Oakland School District.

By Mr. Rutan—Supplement for the Farmers and Miners' Railway, increasing its powers and extending privileges thereto.

By Mr. Purman—Incorporating The Paper Printing Company of Pittsburgh. This is the new Democratic enterprise. The capital is divided into five hundred shares at one hundred dollars each, with the privilege of increasing to one hundred thousand dollars. Corporators, Wm. Beesom, Alexander M. Gibson, Wm. J. Anderson, D. Tetley, B. T. Campbell, E. C. Fechin, T. Brent. Swearingen, John Warden. They are authorized to issue bonds for improvements at seven per cent. for twenty years, not exceeding the amount of the capital stock.

The Dead Lock.

The Senate is determined to pass no bills from the House till the House acts on important Democratic measures which have passed the Senate. Three weeks' private calendar remain untouched, and Graham failed to-day in his endeavor to get up the calendar of two weeks ago.

Mr. Anderson called the yeas and nays, resulting in 12 ayes to 16 nays, the Democrats voting solid in the negative. Both Houses seem to be at a dead lock on party measures, with the prolongation of the session till May probable.

The House was not in session.

Frightful Railway Disaster in France—Twenty-two Persons Killed and Seventy-two Injured—The British Army Bill—Strike Among Cigar Makers in Antwerp—Election to the Spanish Cortes, &c.

The British Army Bill.

LONDON, March 24.—In the House of Commons today, Mr. Mundella caused a deep sensation by moving a resolve that while the House approve the principle of the measure for the abolition of the system of purchase of commissions in the army, it believes the army and navy can be made efficient without any increase in the expenditures over those ordinarily. Mr. Gladstone, in opposing, detailed many arguments why the House should reserve its judgment on the antithesis between the intentions of the government and its past conduct, and stated that the habitual economy of the government was only suspended for a time by the pressure of the exigencies of the late war. George Dixon and Jacob Bright, both members from Birmingham, made speeches in eloquent denunciation of ministerial extravagance, and accusing the Government of violating its pledges to the nation. Mr. Cardwell, Secretary of War, having spoken in reply, a division of the House was called for, and the Government was sustained by a majority of 204. Mr. Latham, member for Huddersfield, submitted a motion for the reduction of the proposed increase in the army to 20,000 men, which, on a division, was rejected by 230 majority.

A strike is in progress among the cigar makers of Antwerp.

Hon. John Allison.

[From the Beaver Radical.]

Hon. John Allison, at present Register of the Treasury, is named as a candidate for Governor next year, in a number of journals. He would be a strong candidate, and if nominated would be able to take the stump and canvass the State as did Governor Curtin, being like our great war Governor, an able and popular speaker. We are of opinion, however, without knowing definitely his views on this question, that if he is a candidate for any position it will be for United States Senator in 1873. He was named in 1869 and had considerable strength. General Cameron has repeatedly announced that he will not be a candidate again, in which event the West will claim the position, and if our just claim is conceded, Mr. Allison will be a very prominent candidate. He belongs to no faction, and is popular with all classes of Republicans. He was an old Whig, and was elected to represent this district in Congress by that party in 1850. He was then a consistent, fearless anti-slavery man, and was one of the first to propose and help organize the Republican party to prevent the extension of slavery. His public history is known to all of our readers. Able, honest, consistent and fearless, he would, if elected, prove a fit representative of our great Commonwealth in the Senate of the United States.

THE annual sermon for the Ladies' Bible Society of Allegheny city will be preached by the Rev. M. J. Reed, in the First U. P. church, Union avenue, Sabbath evening, the 26th inst., at 7:30 o'clock.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 24, 1871.

MR. CHASE.

I saw the Chief Justice the other day, and I am glad to write that he continues steadily to improve in his health. He now walks miles every day, eats with a relish, and sleeps like a child. He is gaining flesh and strength, and his face is again assuming its old form of characteristics and expression. The convalence of the Chief Justice has revived all the old speculations concerning the Presidency, and should his health continue to improve, I would not be astonished to see him nominated by the Democracy and elected President of the United States. When he was struck down by this sickness, the leaders of the party, considering him out of the way, very generally admitted that he was really their only available candidate, and a man who ought to hold the position. They did not calculate upon his restoration to health, and now that he is getting well, these confessions are somewhat awkward, and go far to strengthen him for the nomination and election.—Correspondence Cincinnati Commercial.

THE MARRIAGE OF MISS CHASE.

The fashionable world of Washington has been in a great flutter to-day over the marriage of Miss Nettie Chase, daughter of Chief Justice Chase, to Wm. Sprague Hoyt, of New York City. The ceremony was performed by Bishop McIlvaine, of Ohio, in St. John's Church, on Lafayette Square, the Chief Justice giving the bride away. The church was superb in its floral decorations, and was crammed with the elite of the town and invited guests from abroad. There were four ushers, one being the son of Secretary Fish, and another a member of the Diplomatic Corps. The British Commissioners all attended, as did most all the ladies attached to the Diplomatic Corps. The bridal party entered the church, with the bride leaning on the arm of her father, the Chief Justice, followed by Mrs. Senator Sprague, the bride's sister, being on the arm of the bridegroom. The bride's dress was white illusion, with vail of the same, falling over the face and around the form. The dress was looped with exquisite white flowers, and a wreath of the same was worn on the head. The bridesmaids were all dressed alike in white French muslin with ruffles, trimmed with white satin pipings top and bottom, bodies heart-shaped and trimmed to correspond with the skirts, natural flowers in the hair and dress looped with white flowers. Each carried a bouquet of pink roses, all except one, who wore black velvet around the throat. Mrs. Sprague's dress was of rib green silk with court train of pink silk. An elegant white point lace shawl was draped about her shoulders and worn as a head dress. The ceremony was conducted according to the impressive forms of the Episcopal Church. From three to five o'clock in the afternoon the reception took place at Mrs. Sprague's residence, and nearly two thousand invited guests attended, including about everybody in the official and social life of the Capital.

THE WEST INDIES.

Spain in Danger of Losing Her American Colonies—Great Agitation in Porto Rico—Cuba also Dissatisfied with the New King.

HAVANA, via KEY WEST, March 23.—The news from Porto Rico by a Spanish steamer confirms the reports agitated as to the state of affairs in that island. The radical party of Creoles and conservative Spaniards are not only waging a war of words, but the latter threatens recourse to arms. There is much secret discontent with the new King, and the events of the past few days show that Spain is in greater danger than ever of losing her remaining American colonies. A very inflammatory manifesto has been issued, and it is evident that the feeling existing between the two parties is of the most bitter character.

It is rumored in Cuban circles that Gen. Quesada landed his expedition successfully in the vicinity of Trinidad.

The action of the home government in removing an officer has excited the indignation of those in Havana, who desire to run the government of the island of Cuba, and they have sent a dispatch to Madrid asking that the removed officer be reinstated. Should the reply be unfavorable, it is said that the authority of King Amadeus will be quietly ignored.

Additional troubles are reported in Porto Rico.

THE WATER QUESTION.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

The importance of the future supply of water to the city of Pittsburgh deserves a careful examination of the report of the Board of Examiners. That there is abundance of water in either of the two rivers, the Allegheny and the Monongahela, was shown by the measurement of the land trained by each of them by the annual rainfall, published in the COMMERCIAL of September, 1869, namely: 9,710 square miles of land drained by the Allegheny river, and 7,593 square miles drained by the Monongahela river, the one being twenty-nine per cent. more than the other; the rainfall yearly 36 inches; the average daily rainfall of the Allegheny yielding 965 times and the Monongahela 429 times thirty millions of gallons daily.

The water is divided into two parts—the one visible in the stream, the other percolating through the sand and gravel beneath. All that remains to be said is, that the Monongahela's slightly descending plane will retain longer the rainfall than the swiftly descending Allegheny river. And here let it be said, once for all, that the Monongahela Navigation Company have only been short of water because their manner of utilizing the flow of the Monongahela river has been inefficient. And the dread of litigation so improperly introduced in the Engineer's report, and breathing out in the Commissioners' report, falls to the ground.

The second reason, "the purity and clearness of the water," is the one of chief consideration, and here I refer to Prof. Wuth's analysis. It does not appear that he filtered the four samples of water before testing them for soluble impurities. If this be the case, his analysis is not worthy of consideration, inasmuch as filtering would remove all cloudings caused by insoluble matter, and much of the soluble salts, chlorides, sulphates and carbonates, and almost all of the organic matter mentioned in Prof. Wuth's analysis. And in this connection I suggest that the filtering vessels contain the same material and be of the same thickness as that which will be used in practice, and that the samples of water be taken at the four different seasons of the year and at two different conditions of the river, namely, at low water and at high water. Of course I presume that the citizens will never consent to be supplied with any other than filtered water.

Neither the Commissioners, Board of Examiners, engineer nor chemist mention filtering when considering the obtaining of "purity and clearness of the water." Why is the question of filtering the water so completely ignored? Is it usual for civil engineers when engaged to select "pure and abundant water" totally to forget or overlook filtration? The Monongahela river water "retains a slight opaqueness," says the analyzer. Filtering will remove this opaqueness, know all scientists. The Allegheny river water did not "show the presence of oil," says the analyzer; but the people know that in practice during the last eight years Allegheny river water taken from any hydrant in the city at any hour of the day or night, winter or summer, would disclose the presence of oil both to smell and taste. Will or will not filtering remove the presence of oil from the Allegheny river water? It is time for us to know. Prof. Wuth is presumed not to be called upon to say. His business was to find out what impurities were in the water, not how to get rid of the impurities; and his samples of the Allegheny river water did not "show the presence of oil." Does the Monongahela House get rid of the "presence of oil" in the water they supply to their guests by filtering or otherwise? Again, I say, why is this matter of filtration ignored?

I shall refer to one branch of the construction of works, namely, the conduit pipes and reservoirs. The cost of the proposed Allegheny river conduit is estimated at $286,700 00; the proposed Monongahela river conduit is estimated at $716,300 00. To the first must be added $499,925 ($500,000) for building reservoirs; to the second must be added $535,599 ($536,600 00) for building reservoirs. To each would have to be added to the cost of land on which to build reservoirs, and this may be estimated at $200,000 00. We have:

Allegheny river conduit	$286,700 00
Allegheny reservoirs	$500,000 00
Allegheny land	200,000 00	—700,000 00	$986,700 00
Monongahela river conduit	$716,300 00
Monongahela reservoirs	$535,600 00
Monongahela land	200,000 00	—735,600 00
			1,451,900 00

The Allegheny river plan for conduits, reservoirs and land, $986,700. The Monongahela river plan, $1,451,900. It is unnecessary to say that the Allegheny river plan can only be considered in the event of being able to remove the taint of oil from the water.

To each of these totals must be added a large sum of money for the erection of suitable filtering apparatus, and a large yearly sum of money to pay for cleaning the filters. I have consulted a practical man on this subject and together we have estimated the cost of building four acres of stone arched cellars—15 feet high, and 20 feet span with walls and arches of solid stone of two feet thickness, ashler finish, to be set without mortar under the bed of the Monongahela river, covered and surrounded with gravel, with twenty feet of such gravel, for $600,000. Such an underground reservoir would contain 25,000,000 gallons of water, with filtering power equal to fill itself ten times a day if necessary, and capable of being extended indefinitely at a proportionate cost. Such a reservoir, always full of cold, clear, filtered water, would require no high-ground reservoirs; a series of stand-pipes on the different levels would be all that would be required—or at most one small reservoir at the highest elevation, to receive the surplus water. This plan of combining filtered cold water with underground reservoirs was before the public in 1869, and is surely worthy of examination. This is my answer to the third and fourth reasons given by the Board of Examiners.

I come now to what incidentally affects us as citizens interested in the welfare of Pittsburgh. The area of the city is set down at twenty-one square miles; in the near future, one half of the whole drainage of the city will naturally be returned into the Monongahela river above the first dam, so that if the water of the Allegheny river could be depended on to be made pure, by filtering or by any other process, it would be of benefit to the Monongahela Navigation Company to receive into their first pool this waste water. I mean to pump out of the Allegheny river during the summer months when most water is required for washing and cooling purposes, and to drain into the Monongahela Navigation Company's pool the waste utilized water. This pumping of the Allegheny river water in summer would help the Navigation Company and being without detriment to the city, ought to be done; and is one good and just reason in favor of the Allegheny river plan. Another incidental advantage to the city would occur by building this four or more acre reservoir at the Point; the sand and gravel excavated out of the bed of the river and deposited upon the top of the arched cellars would yield more than the same number of acres for park purposes.

There need be no fear of the reservoir water at the Point being hard, the hardness of the water in the small wells now existing near the point is because this water is the drainage from the hillsides above, and does not come from the river. Yours truly, JOHN F. BENNETT.

THE Republicans of Cincinnati, with the best of feeling, have entered the field with the following city ticket: For Mayor—S. S. Davis; for Judge of the Police Court—Walter F. Straub; for City Solicitor—Colonel Fred. W. Moore; for City Treasurer—G. W. Armstrong; for Prosecuting Attorney—T. C. Campbell; for Trustee of the Water Works—Henry Pearce; for Wharf-master—Sidney Milner; for Director of the City Infirmary—John Kirchner.

CONGRESS.

An Interesting Time in the Senate.

Mr. Sumner's Resolutions Again Ruled Out—Their Opponents Become Complacent—Mr. Sumner Takes Conkling by Surprise and Gets the Resolution In by Unanimous Consent—He Proposes to Make a Speech on the Subject on Monday.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 24, 1871.

The Senate.

Mr. Sumner's persistency in getting his San Domingo resolutions before the Senate was triumphantly successful to-day, notwithstanding he was fought at every point by his Republican colleagues. Yesterday these resolutions were only partially read, and the morning hour expired before any definite action could be taken upon them. Immediately after the Senate assembled this morning, Mr. Sumner arose and sent up to the clerk's desk his resolutions, which he desired to have read as on the day previous. Mr. Conkling anticipated their contents, and renewed his point of order that they came within the restrictions imposed by Mr. Anthony's resolution on the business of the present session. A protracted discussion followed, chiefly noticeable for the persistence with which several Senators ingeniously sought to enforce the caucus resolution. After this debate had gone the regular rounds, the question was submitted to the Chair as to whether Mr. Sumner's resolutions were admissable. The Vice President, after a thorough examination of all precedent, said that they were, and Mr. Conkling's point of order was not well taken, but in view of the fact that the Senate had adopted the prescribed order of business in a caucus of its members, and that he was not, in matter of fact a member of that body, but only permitted to preside over its deliberation by virtue of the constitution, he would rather not assume the responsibility of deciding the question, but would prefer to leave its final settlement to the Senate itself, as there was nothing in previous proceedings to officially show whether the resolutions were in order or not. He instructed the clerk to read them for the information of the Chair. The reading having been finished, and one difficulty they obviated, the resolutions came back upon the Senate for final disposition. Would members receive them and permit them to be printed, or would they decide to proscribe them?

Time was consumed in discussing this phase of the situation, and as everybody appeared to have peculiar views to advance in this direction, Mr. Sherman, as the best method to reach a test vote, moved to lay the whole subject on the table, on which the yeas and nays were demanded, the motion being sustained by 29 to 25. The Republicans who objected to the resolutions being thus unceremoniously disposed of were Cragin, Fenton, Hamlin, Morrill, of Vermont; Patterson, Schurz, Spencer, Sumner, Tipton, Wilson and Robertson. Among the Republicans who were absent or did not vote were Logan, Trumbull and Carpenter. After the vote was announced Mr. Sumner declared his determination to press these resolutions each day, either for reception as such or as amendments to the caucus resolutions, and said that on Monday next he would make a speech thereon, and move their being considered in connection with Mr. Sherman's resolution to suppress Southern outrages.

At this pronunciamento Mr. Morton arose and stated that he hoped no objection would be made to Mr. Sumner's carrying out this programme. For his part he was willing to allow him to proceed in this matter as he saw fit, without further opposition. Not to be outdone at this unexpected generosity, Mr. Conkling, who was impressed with the idea that the resolutions, by the action of the Senate, were dead beyond any possibility of resurrection, wished to show his magnanimity to the fallen foe, he, too, hoped the Massachusetts Senator would not be interfered with in future. If he made any point of order against the resolutions, it was not because he was hostile to their being considered, but because they involved a breach of the rule which the Senate had adopted to regulate the legislation of the present session. He thus continued in his blandest tone for several minutes, disclaiming any personal feeling in the matter, and finally wound up by stating that if Mr. Sumner had only asked general consent to introduce his resolutions, there probably would have been no opposition offered whatever.

Everybody felt good when Mr. Conkling sat down. He had taken from the question its personal sting, and there was general happiness all around. Amidst the general good feeling Mr. Sumner slowly arose. His face showed that he had caught the contagious good humor everywhere prevalent. He leaned over his desk in the direction of Mr. Conkling, and stated that he supposed he had taken all necessary parliamentary steps to get his resolutions before the Senate, but it would seem that he had been in error. He would now ask unanimous consent that they might be introduced and printed. For a moment there was dead silence. Conkling looked blank and bewildered, and a smile broke over the faces, especially of the Democratic Senators. There was nothing for the Speaker to do but ask if there was objection to the resolutions. Not a solitary voice responded, and while the Chair was deciding that the resolutions would now be received, the galleries, which had been attentively watching the proceedings all day, broke out into a storm of applause, in which various members of the Senate irresistibly joined.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

I have delayed replying this long to the communication appearing in your paper of the 22d inst., over the signature of "Killbuck," for the reason that I was endeavoring to get a list of the stockholders from the books of the company—the name of every stockholder, and the amount of stock owned by each person.

Having failed thus far to obtain that, I deem it my duty to remain silent no longer, and pronounce the assertion of "Killbuck," that I am "the principal stockholder in the New Brighton road," as false, and without the shadow of truth, and the scribbling pettifogger who wrote the article knew it was false when he wrote it.

I own but $500 of the stock, either directly or indirectly; ten or twelve others hold a similar amount, and the balance of the stock is held in amounts of from one to three hundred dollars by parties living along the line of the road.

SMALL LOCOMOTIVE ENGINES.

Light Locomotive Building to be Continued in Pittsburgh—The New Firm of Porter, Bell & Co.

It will be gratifying intelligence to our community that the locomotive works recently burned are soon to be in operation again in our own city, and with greatly enlarged facilities. Mr. Porter, who had the entire business management of the late firm of Smith & Porter, has been fortunate in associating with himself A. W. Bell, Esq., a gentleman well known, not only in our community, but also, from his former connection with the Pittsburgh Forge and Iron Company, among the prominent railroad men in the West. The composition of the new firm justifies the belief that the business so well developed will be carried on with increased energy and success.

Mr. H. N. Sprague, who has been in charge of Smith & Porter's works for the past two years, remains with the new firm. His well earned reputation, derived from nearly twenty years' connection with the machinery department of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh, Atlantic and Great Western, and various other roads, and the remarkable success achieved by the light locomotives turned out under his immediate superintendence during these two years, is itself a guarantee its continued success.

The new shops will be built with special adaptation to this specialty of manufacture. The tools will all be of new and improved styles for this specific work, and we cannot doubt that the business so well established will increase in the future even more than heretofore.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Meeting of Citizens to Organize a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

A meeting of citizens, a number of whom were ladies, convened last evening, in the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, for the purpose of organizing a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The attendance was not very large, but those present were among the most active and influential of our people, and able to command the sympathy and co-operation of the entire community.

On motion of James H. Hopkins, Esq., Felix R. Brunot, Esq., was called to the chair. He stated that he did not know precisely what the programme was, but came out of respect to the ladies and gentlemen who had proposed to organize a Society for the prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and to show his sympathy with the cause.

Mr. Charles J. Clark was chosen Secretary.

Mr. P. E. Chase, Secretary of the Philadelphia Society, was introduced and made a speech in regard to the operations of the organization with which he was connected. Pittsburgh was regarded as a desirable point for the organization of such a society, as thousands of cattle were transhipped here, and a large amount of heavy hauling was done on stock grades, which rendered it probable that much cruelty was practiced towards animals. He had some correspondence on the subject of organizing a society here, and arranged to visit us to make such suggestions as might be proper. He explained fully the workings of the Philadelphia society, and suggested the organization of either a branch or separate society. He preferred a separate organization, unless for temporary convenience. The Legislature would adjourn before a charter could be prepared, and a branch society might be organized, as the parent association had authority to appoint agents with police powers. He spoke of the necessity for such a society, and mentioned some of the more horrible cases of cruelty which had been brought to their notice—cutting off the tongues of horses, setting fire to dogs after saturating their hair with oil, piling calves on wagons so deep as to smother some of them, etc. The horses and mules attached to railway cars were very much abused, but the society had succeeded in preventing much cruelty. The evil was only checked—not abated—and required constant watching. The moral influence of the society had been very satisfactory.

Mr. Chase expressed himself very much gratified at the amount of sympathy exhibited by the people here in this movement. The great difficulty would be to get gentlemen to devote time enough to the work. The business men of Pittsburgh are more closely confined than those of Philadelphia, and many of them lived in the country—but men of influence and character should be secured as officers, as the active work devolved upon agents and policemen. He suggested the appointment of a Committee on Organization, to report two weeks hence. Mayor Brush had offered his assistance, and would give the aid of his police in any way desirable. The ladies would be found the most efficient co-workers, from their naturally humane feeling and greater sensitiveness, and also from the fact that they had more time. The success of the Philadelphia Society was mainly owing to the ladies. He stated that Mrs. White, president of the woman's branch, was present, and would explain the operations of the society with which she stood connected. He would suggest that the society be organized with a president, six or eight vice presidents, and ten or twelve managers, one half of whom should be ladies. The terms of the Philadelphia society were $5 a year for gentlemen, and $1 for ladies, as a membership fee.

Mr. Brunot asked for information as to the plan of operations, and Mr. Chase replied that the society kept a book for registering all complaints, anonymous or otherwise, and thus bringing cases of cruelty to the notice of the officers, who then took steps to have the offenders arrested, or to prevent the repetition of the offense. Cards were furnished to the agents and officers, with the words "Cruelty to Animals" printed on them, and when any cruelty was being practiced it was only necessary for the person representing the society to show the case in order to stop the abuse of the animal. Offenders soon get to understand the matter, and take the hint. Even the raising of the finger had been sufficient to indicate that the party was a member, authorized to act, and the infliction of cruelty had been prevented in that way. The police reported all cases of cruelty coming under their notice, and the society had four special agents who made arrests. The special agents were the most reliable.

COMMITTEE ON ORGANIZATION.

On motion the Chair appointed the following Committee to report a permanent organization at an adjourned meeting to be held two weeks hence: Messrs. James Park, jr., J. H. Shoenberger, C. G. Hussey, J. H. Hopkins, and T. K. Cree, and Mrs. J. H. Shoenberger, Mrs. Judge McCandless, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Verner, Mrs. M. B. Hogg and Mrs. J. M. Knap.

REMARKS OF MRS. WHITE.

Mrs. White having been called upon to state the operations of the Ladies' Branch of the Philadelphia Society, responded in a very interesting speech. She said the Society had been organized about two years, and had attended to many cases of cruelty. One of the most important works done by the Society was in taking sole charge of the killing of dogs. The police had been discharging this duty, and the killing was attended with all manner of cruelties. The usual way was to beat them to death with clubs—crushing in their skulls. The pound was near the House of Refuge, and the brutal exhibitions has a very demoralizing effect upon the boys in the Refuge—so much so as to be the cause of complaint. The boys would be wild with excitement, and almost uncontrollable while the slaughtering was going on, and the howlings of the animals could be heard. The ladies finally got control of the whole dog-capturing and dog-killing business, and conducted it on a different scale. The dogs were caught in nets, instead of by the lasso, and they were fed twice a day while in the pound. Valuable dogs were not killed, but provided with homes. Those that were killed were suffocated in a room by the administration of carbonic acid gas. They died in half a minute without any apparent pain.

The lady also detailed similar efforts in behalf of the horse, the mule and the cattle intended for consumption. At the close of her remarks she was loudly applauded.

Mr. Cree moved that the Chairman and Secretary of this meeting be the Chairman and Secretary of the Committee just appointed. Agreed to.

Mr. Brunot declined, stating that he would be absent from the city for several months, after this month.

Mr. Hopkins was called on and made a few remarks heartily approving the movement, and promising to give it his support and assistance.

LETTER FROM BISHOP KERFOOT.

A letter was read from Right Rev. J. B. Kerfoot, D. D., in which he cordially indorses the movement, and says: There will be need of wisdom in devising the right measures and agencies, and of prudence in executing them. Then every good man must approve and commend the humane movement. God, whose right in His irrational creatures it recognizes, will bless the movement as one not only humane, but God-fearing.

SHIPPING STOCK—THE PALACE CATTLE CAR.

Mr. Street made some remarks in regard to the present manner of shipping cattle by railroad, and called attention to his improvement in stock cars, for the shipment of cattle from the west to the eastern markets.

Mr. Chase cordially indorsed this car as a great improvement, and stated that the meat of cattle shipped in the improved car commanded two or three cents a pound more in the Philadelphia market than that shipped in the ordinary cars.

After tendering a vote of thanks to Mrs. White and Mr. Chase, the society adjourned to meet two weeks hence, and hear the report of the Committee on Organization.

WHO NEXT?

The $25,000 Reward Still Waiting a Taker—Charley Jones Not the Nathan Murderer.

We have had two or three paragraphs relative to the suspicion that one Charley Jones, confined in the Cambria county jail at Ebensburg, was Billy Forrester, the suspected murderer of Nathan. A couple of New York reporters visited Charley, in company with a detective, and found him not the man. Charley has grown indignant over the notoriety which he has obtained, and publishes a card in self-defense, in which he says, among other severe things:

Some modern Judas, who is on the alert for an opportunity to make thirty pieces of silver, as well as to injure me, has put up that job on me. The Nathan murder took place early last summer. I was arrested on the 7th of October, by a woman of ill-repute, because I would not allow her to blackmail me into her wishes, and have been in the hands of the Philistines ever since. On last Friday I was interviewed by two kid-glove gents, who represented the New York Herald and Tribune, accompanied by one of those human animals called thief-catchers. When they saw me their prospect for making that $25,000 reward vanished in thin air. They felt as disappointed as Paddy with the flea. I have no objections to the public enjoying the luxury of thinking me the Nathan murderer, so long as they do not attempt to put their thoughts into execution and set me to pulling hemp.

Of the three companies not included in the above list, one is located in this city, so that Pittsburgh has twenty out of the forty-six flint and lime glass factories in the United States. Efforts have been made to establish similar factories in Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Zanesville, but the enterprises all failed. Three-fourths of all the glass manufactured in the United States is made in Pittsburgh and Wheeling.

The above list does not embrace any of the firms engaged in the manufacture of window glass, bottles, jars, etc., which is a distinct branch of trade.

OAKLAND DRIVING PARK.

Converted into a Cock-Pit.

Harvey Van Voorhis, well known as the lesee of Oakland Driving Park, appeared before Mayor Brush yesterday and charged William Jones and James Williams and a score of others with indulging in the pastime of "fighting chickens" within the precincts of the Park. Mr. Van Voorhis alleged that on Thursday afternoon a company of well known persons, to the number of twenty perhaps, with about as many more visitors, who were cognizant of what was to take place, repaired to the Park, and there under the sweet influences of the balmy air and the beautiful sun, released from the dark bags in which they were encased while in transit to the Park, numerous game chickens, which, in the course of time, were placed in the ring and set to fighting, which was continued until the shades of evening closed in and warned the offenders off.

Mr. Van Voorhis, as soon as he heard of the revelry going on within the Park, hastened thither only to find the birds and owners gone. Determined, however, to prosecute them, he called at the Mayor's office and acquainted the officers with the names of a half dozen of the offenders, against whom he desired to prefer informations. The Mayor was not at the office, however, and the preferring of the charges was postponed until yesterday, when warrants for the arrest of the accused were issued.

CITY MATTERS IN BRIEF.

CHERRY alley, near Sixth avenue, is being supplied with new water pipe.

CRIMINAL business at the Mayor's office has fallen off considerably within the past few days.

NINETEEN common drunks presented themselves to Mayor Brush yesterday morning. Their cases were severally heard and appropriately disposed of.

ALDERMAN MCMASTERS issued a warrant for the arrest of Allen Schamp, yesterday, who was charged with abandonment on oath of his wife Ellen Schamp.

JAMES ABBOTT was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses before Alderman McMasters, by Jacob Winters. A warrant was issued.

THE local association of the flint and lime glass manufacturers of Pittsburgh will hold a meeting at two o'clock this afternoon, at the office of Campbell, Jones & Co., No. 87 Water street.

MAYOR BRUSH and his detective officers yesterday furnished one of the actresses at a variety show in this city, who is in destitute circumstances, with sufficient funds to take her to Philadelphia.

MRS. SARAH REED made information before Alderman Strain, yesterday, charging her husband, Wm. Reed, with abandonment. William was arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

J. H. COLEMAN, the man who was arrested for stealing sixty-one sheep from Mr. Cartwell, of Ohio, was turned over to the Ohio officer and taken back to that State yesterday, Governor Geary having signed the warrant for his removal.

SAMUEL JONES, who was confined in the jail of this county by the authorities of Westmoreland county, on a charge of robbing a store at Greensburg, was released yesterday, a nol. pros. having been entered in the case.

W. J. HOWARD, Esq., of Philadelphia, Solicitor of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, was in the city yesterday. His mission likely was to look after the erection of the new block on Smithfield street from Fifth avenue to Diamond alley, in which he is personally interested.

A REQUISITION from the Governor of Ohio having been obtained, J. H. Coleman, the alleged sheep-stealer, was taken back yesterday afternoon. Now that Coleman is gone it is presumed the charge of felonious assault against Cartwell, prosecutor in the sheep-stealing case, and who, it will be recollected, drew a revolver and presented it at Coleman's head, to detain him until the arrival of Alderman Strain's officer, will be withdrawn.

JACOB D. ETZWILER was arrested at Williamsburg, Dauphin county, Tuesday afternoon, by one of Col. Whittley's secret service men, on a charge of passing counterfeit money. Some months since, when this city was being flooded with counterfeit money on the Farmers' National Bank of Poughkeepsie, a $20 bill was passed on Mr. Smith, proprietor of a saloon opposite the Court House. It appears that Etzwiler was in this city at the time that bill was passed, and that it is now known that he had over $500 in counterfeit money in his possession at that time. He will be brought to this city for a hearing, and the United States District Attorney who collected the evidence against him and procured his arrest, says there will be no difficulty in making out a clear case.

PITTSBURGH FEMALE COLLEGE.

Spring Term—Prosperous Opening.

The spring term of the Pittsburgh Female College opened a few days since with a larger number of pupils than at any previous opening, a fact which must be gratifying to the Board, and especially so to Dr. I. There is still room for a few more pupils in this model institution, and persons having children to educate should make immediate application either in person or by letter to Dr. I. C. Pershing, at the college, Eighth street, this city.

THE McKee club has just launched a new four-oared paper boat at the club house, foot of Nineteenth street. It was built by Walters, Balch & Co., New York, and is a model of beauty.

EMANUEL and Gibson Bird, were sued by John Sitzman, for assault and battery, who alleged that the accused struck him over the head with hot glass irons. Warrants issued by Justice Krehan. They are employed in a glass factory in Birmingham.

JNO. MCCLOY, a member of the Walton Hose Company, was buried from his residence in East Birmingham, yesterday afternoon, and as a mark of respect the members of the Walton Company, and also of the Mechanics of Birmingam, attended the funeral in a body.

HUGH CORVAN, one of the men injured by the accident at Indian creek, on the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad, Monday afternoon, died yesterday. The body was brought to the city yesterday and buried at the expense of the railroad company.

THOMAS MASON and Michael Kelly, employees at McKnight's mill, became involved in a difficulty, and Mason, coming out second best, proposes to redress his wrongs through the aid of the law. Accordingly, Justice Salisbury has issued a warrant upon a charge of assault and battery.

BETWEEN eight and nine o'clock Thursday evening a male infant, a few days old, was found on Eleventh street, between Carson and Washington, in front of the premises of Mr. M. Humel. It was first discovered by Mrs. Humel, wrapped in a shawl, and lying immediately under a water spout. She took it into her house, and in unwrapping found a note written in pencil placed under its clothing at the neck, but so indistinctly written as to preclude the possibility of its being read. It will be kindly cared for.

A MARRIAGE SPOILED.

The Alleged Reason for it Unfounded.

Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham, entertained a very singular case yesterday, which, owing to his indefatigable energy, was worried through, and amicably, to one party at least, disposed of. A young man whose name for obvious reasons is withheld, preferred a suit against a maidenly dame for disorderly conduct, she, as alleged, having uttered language derogatory to the character of the said young man, by and through which an engagement in marriage with a certain damsel of prepossessing appearance was broken off, much to the chagrin, disappointment and discomfiture of the supposed affianced young man. The stated agency of this woe and distraction to him of the sterner sex was arrested and given a hearing, when the astonishing fact was developed that the soon to be wife of the young man—as he imagined—was a married woman, whose husband lived and breathed the pure air of heaven, and that the statements of the dame in question, even if any had been made, would not have influenced, in the least, her decision, had she ever made any engagement. The case was dismissed.

THE Committee appointed by the meeting of citizens, in regard to the licensing of taverns, meets daily at half-past eleven A. M., in the Young Men's Christian Association parlor. They desire to meet the temperance men of the county immediately that the work now inaugurated may be prosecuted with vigor. Thos. H. Rabe, Chairman.

"A THING OF BEAUTY IS A JOY FOREVER."—This can be found by inhaling the aromatic flavor of Pier, Dannals & Co.'s cream ale.

SATURDAY, MARCH 25, 1871.

THE Free Trade League have remonstrated against taking the duties from tea and coffee, which are articles of universal consumption. But the League are for free trade in commodities which are produced in the United States, and in which all our industries are involved. And the League's first cousins are the revenue reformers. Here is consistency for you!

THE success of the postal telegraph system in England, about which there was at first considerable doubt, is said to be complete. The press have been very greatly benefited; the number of telegraph offices has increased nearly two fold; some thousands of miles of wire have been strung; remote districts are reached, and it is the testimony of the London Times that the government system is affording accommodation to the public that under private management would never have been enjoyed. Women are found to be the most expert telegraphers, and schools of instruction have been established to train young girls in this business. These experiences will do much to remove the objections urged against the adoption of the system in this country.

THE passage of the Allegheny Fee and Salary Bill—so far as it goes—is a substantial triumph of the Reform movement of last fall; for no one will pretend that without this movement such a law would have found a place on our statute books. The pledges, of which the bill is the outcome, were extorted by the movement, and it required no inconsiderable effort to induce those subscribing to these pledges to redeem them. The bill itself may not be all that it should be—indeed, we are not at this moment certain loop-holes for abuses have not been left—but we believe that in the main it is a great improvement on the old system. It is probable that under it the public will be saved many thousands of dollars annually, and if no other benefits should ensue, this of itself fully justifies the movement and compensate for all the labor expended in producing the reform. All honor to the Reformers!

MR. SUMNER should bear in mind that the very general protest against the substitution of Mr. CAMERON for himself as Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs does not mean that the protestants are ready to follow him in a crusade against the Republican party and the Administration, for the benefit of the Democratic party. Even on the San Domingo question the great body of the Republicans, though doubting the wisdom of annexation, hold themselves open to conviction. It might be well for him to know that the indignation manifested at his removal would have been considerably less had Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN or some statesman of his fitness been selected instead of Mr. CAMERON. And those who would decapitate Republicans for criticising the proceeding, dissenting from the motives and manner of it, commit as great an error as was the original proceeding itself. The protest has had its good effect already, as any one can see. Let Mr. SUMNER see to it that he place himself not outside the moderated councils and the better feeling which are visible.

WE regret to learn that the bill for the establishment of lights and buoys on our Western rivers, which was introduced into Congress last January, was not acted on. The pressure of business was so great that in the call of committees the Committee on Commerce, which has the bill in charge, was not reached. General GARFIELD has reintroduced the bill, and as the present Congress has just begun, there will be no danger of its not coming up at some of their sessions. As there seems to be no opposition to the bill it will probably pass, but the matter is too important to Western navigators to be left to get through unaided. River men should watch for it, and, if necessary, should renew their petitions in its behalf. There is no present hurry in the matter, however, as no legislation will be had this spring that can possibly be postponed until December.

Meanwhile, for another year at least, our coal fleets and packets must grope their ways along the river as well as they can by the "clear silver light of the moon," when it shines, and by the hills and stars when "the moon am gone away."

A FEW days ago we alluded to the "penny lectures" to workingmen, upon subjects of popular science, delivered by such distinguished men as HUXLEY, ROSCOE and HUGGINS, and suggested the propriety of instituting a similar experiment here. We observe that in New York the lecture season which is now drawing to a close has been characterized by unusual efforts on the part of lecturers and committees to popularize the results of modern science. Lectures on light, heat, electricity, magnetism, and other sciences have been delivered, at once stimulating and satisfying the thirst for scientific knowledge. This is a movement in the right direction, and we heartily wish it could be imitated here. A course of lectures on chemistry, geology, and the kindred physical sciences, illustrated with experiments, could hardly fail of being pecuniarily successful, and would supply a greatly needed want. There is a vast amount of voluble clap-trap passing current as platform oratory, and we could wish that at least a portion of it might be superseded by calm and rational revelations of the beauty and order and divine appointment of the world in which we dwell. As lecturers go nowadays, people get too many plums and not enough pudding. Let us have a little less rhetorical show, and a little more philosophic substance.

"FAIRNESS IN DISCUSSION."

In its issue of yesterday morning the Post reads us a long homily over our supposed infringement upon "the rights of polemic discussion," its rebuke being founded on our recent notice of an article upon "Unification and Education" in the April number of the Catholic World. We are accused of "garbling" and of "manufacturing" quotations, "for no other conceivable purpose than to place a large portion of the community in a false position, and subject them to the prejudice of their neighbors." Our contemporary is altogether in error. Nothing can be more foreign to the spirit and purpose of the COMMERCIAL than the motive mistakenly attributed to us. We believe in the inherent right of every man to decide for himself, upon all matters, whether social, religious or political, and we uphold the liberty of the individual conscience as against the domination of any man or system. This is why the COMMERCIAL has on more than one occasion incurred censure from politicians of its own party who could discern no higher standard of fealty than allegiance to the power of a caucus, and it also explains the reason why, in contradistinction to the Post, we sympathized with the accomplishment of Italian Unity.

With respect to the allegations charged against us by our contemporary, we simply remark that the extracts given by us in the article alluded to were copied from the New York Tribune of Tuesday. At the time, we supposed them to be literal quotations from the Catholic World, and we therefore marked them as such; but from the article itself, now lying before us, we observe that they were thrown into the form of a summary, in which the spirit and tenor of the argument were, however, most carefully preserved. Instead of publishing entire extracts, we find that the Tribune simply sifted and bolted the essential portions from those which were irrelevant, giving us the meaning of the author in a nut-shell, instead of spreading it out through a column. But now we assert that the selections—if that term suits the Post better—are in no single particular inconsistent with the general tone of the paper, and that in no wise do they misrepresent the logic and reasoning of its author. Since, however, the Post has chosen to indorse and champion the theory of that writer, we respectfully ask its opinion of the following literal quotation from the essay in question:

"We believe the peasantry in old Catholic countries, two centuries ago, were better educated, although for the most part unable to read or write, than are the great body of the American people today."

If this is not "opposition to education"—if this is not a plea for the restoration of the absolute supremacy of the Catholic Church—we should be glad to know what it is. The writer, in elucidation of his meaning, proceeds to say that they (the peasantry in the old Catholic countries)

"Had faith, they had morality, they had a sense of religion, they were instructed in the great principles and essential truths of the Gospel, were trained to be wise unto salvation, and they had the virtues without which wise, stable and efficient government is impracticable."

The "peasanty in old Catholic countries" had these virtues, the writer says. Well, the Protestant Waldenses were among the peasantry of those countries, at that time. Did they also possess these virtues? And if so, whence the reason of the fearful persecutions which with rare interruptions continued against them throughout the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, in memory of which MILTON composed his grand sonnet—

"Avenge, O Lord, Thy slaughtered saints, whose bones
Lie scattered on the Alpine mountains cold!
Even them who kept Thy truth so pure of old,
When all our fathers worshipped stocks and stones,
Forget not! in Thy Book record their groans
Who were Thy sheep, and in their ancient fold
Slain by the bloody Piedmontese, that rolled
Mother with infant down the rocks. Their moans
The vales redoubled to the hills, and they
To heaven. Their martyred blood and ashes sow
O'er all the Italian fields, where still doth sway
The triple tyrant; that from these may grow
A hundred fold, who, having learned thy way,
Early may fly the Babylonian woe."

Large numbers of the Hugenots were also "peasants of Catholic countries." Has the Post, or the author whose theories it defends, ever read in history of the St. Bartholomew massacre? Many of the Lollards, too, were among "the peasants of Catholic countries." What has the Post to say relative to "the wise, stable governments" which lashed them up and down the world as long and as far as the thongs of persecution could be lengthened out? Granted that the flames which consumed HUSS and CRANMER have gone out—has the claim of infallibility which drove the stake, and built the rack, and chained the victim and lit the fires—perished with them? And if it be replied that such atrocities are no longer possible, we ask the question what makes them impossible, except that identical education which has put tolerance and mildness in the place of inexorable spiritual and intellectual despotism? And why, unless he loves them, should the writer whose views the Post assumes make such eulogistic reference to the ages in which these things were not only possible but actual?

We have no controversy with our Catholic fellow-citizens as to their religious views. We are perfectly willing that they should be left free to try and reach heaven in their own way, and we claim a similar privilege for ourselves and all others. But the entire drift and tenor of the article whose theory the Post would seem to adopt and defend is in direct antagonism to the whole liberalizing tendency of the age; and therefore we said so, without mincing our words.

"Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers, and we linger on the shore,
And the individual withers, and the world is more and more."

But because wisdom comes slowly shall knowledge therefore be put in shackles? And does the Post agree with the writer in the Catholic World that "for the great mass of the people the education needed is not secular education?" If, as he admits, "all men have equal natural rights," do not these include the right of education to the fullest extent and according to individual bias, without circumscription or limitation on the part of "the Church?" Even if we grant that "some were born to be leaders, and the rest are born to be led," how is the capacity of leadership to be ascertained except upon intellectual tests, and how are these possible when education is restricted and hampered? "Nothing can be worse than to try to educate all to be leaders," the writer states. But where is the man commissioned to say to another, "beyond the limitations of this study and the confines of that acquisition you must not pass?" Stripped of its verbiage and reduced to plain English, what do such arguments mean save this—that some power or system must prescribe the boundaries beyond which mental effort shall not go, and that this authority rightly inheres only in the hierarchy known as the Catholic Church? It is a protest of the dark ages against the nineteenth century, and smacks ominously of the thumbscrews.

IN the Senate debate of Tuesday on the concurrent resolution for a Joint Committee of Investigation on the South, Mr. THURMAN (Dem.), of Ohio, said—in replying to Mr. MORTON—that he thought it most creditable that after a civil war of the extent of our own "there should have been so few banditti and so little actual disorder." Alluding to the disturbed condition of affairs in France at the time of NAPOLEON BONAPARTE's election as First Consul, he quoted the report that "there were not less than forty thousand banditti in France living by violence and plunder," and added that history presented many similar cases of "long continued social disturbances attendant upon civil conflicts." Senator THURMAN is said to be a man of more than ordinary intellectual power, and we have no doubt that in a general way he means patriotically and well. But will he be good enough to inform us what he meant on this occasion, and what is the inference which he would have us draw from his remarks? The United States is not France, nor do the forty thousand banditti which then violated her, legitimatize the outrages of masked marauders who now despoil us. If this is the correct principle by which to test this question Congress ought immediately to pass a resolution of thanks to the Ku-Klux Klan for their consideration and clemency in stopping short of the atrocities of late indulged in by their brethren of the Seine. And will the Senator be good enough also to explain how it comes about that these "social disturbances" whose bloody significance he smilingly dismisses with a wave of his Senatorial hand, always proceed from one quarter—the rebels—and are always aimed at one class of objects—the men who are loyal to the government under which they live?

WE hope Congress will take immediate action on the communication made on Tuesday by the Secretary of the Interior with reference to Indian affairs. It appears that the appropriation made for the subsistence of the Arrapahoe, Cheyenne, Apache, Kiowa and Comanche Indians during the second session of the late Congress, will be exhausted by midsummer, and that should the supplies of these tribes be stopped, they will be compelled to again scatter to the plains in order to procure food. The Secretary asks for but $250,000 for the purchase of supplies. We trust this sum will be voted without any delay or any haggling. The labor and expense of locating them where they now are will have been of no permanent benefit either to the Government or the Indians, if from threatened starvation they are again scattered abroad. Should this be done the plain English of the matter will be renewed depredations on their part, and fresh military campaigns on the part of the Government; involving the expenditure of at least a hundred thousand dollars for every hundred which it now costs to feed them.

THERE is a paper in Uniontown which is dying for a notice from the COMMERCIAL, and not to gratify it would be cruelty to animals. It bolted the Republican Congressional nomination last fall, and still it never ceases to hurl the epitet "bolter" at the COMMERCIAL, as though we did not freely accept it as an honorable distinction when correctly used. But last of all, to prove how depraved we are, it says we copied an article from the Philadelphia Press criticizing the Sumner proceeding and credited it to the New York Tribune. The Tribune printed conspicuously the Press article, which gave it additional significance. We quoted a portion of the article stating this fact, but the gentle creature at Uniontown is not presumed to know this, or he prefers to charge us falsely. Whichever it is makes not a particle of difference to us.

THE New York Herald, noting the fact that Mr. Disraeli, while awaiting at St. George's Chapel, Windsor, the arrival of the royal wedding party, appeared to be devoutly engaged in reading the Book of Common Prayer, attributes it to the "wonderful religious influence" which itself had previously exerted on his mind. This is characteristically modest, but we have not a doubt of its truth. Any man who, after reading a column or two of the Herald, does not feel his instant need of moral and religious antidotes must be pretty well seared already. We have no reason to suppose that Mr. Disraeli is any other than a high-toned, conscientious gentleman; and can therefore quite understand how it came about that he should endeavor to eliminate from his mind the pestilential effects of the Herald by an immediate resort to the prayer book.

"WHAT in Pennsylvania or Massachusetts is mildly called a row, is magnified in the South into an insurrection. Gen. Terry's troops will have some difficulty, we think, in locating the insurrection, says the Charleston Courier."—Boston Post.

Just so. All our troops experienced a similar difficulty during the rebellion. It ran from one place to another with a celerity and "looseness" that were wonderful. But it was "located" at last. There is an apple tree at Appomattox. We think General Terry's troops will "locate" the insurrection, unless it runs too rapidly.

"IN truth, the more one thinks of it, the more he will be apt to conclude that if mankind did descend from any one species of animal, it was from swine, rather than from apes."—Chicago Times.

We are very glad to observe the intimate acquaintance which our contemporary possesses with its own genealogical record. They were not all drowned, it seems—we mean its ancestors—when they ran into the sea.

"THE very large reward that is offered for the capture of Bill Forrester, the supposed Nathan murderer, is creating an excitement in police circles everywhere. If he should escape with his life, it is, we believe, the intention of Mr. Forrester, as soon as the affair blows over to enter the lecture field."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Indeed! Do the Kentucky Ku-Klux propose to secure his services in that direction?

THERE is one strong indication of an early spring this year, derived from the latest dispatches from Mount Washington. During the month of March the snow usually accumulates to the depth of five or six feet at the base of Mount Washington and throughout the northern part of the State. It is the season for killing moose, as they can be quickly run down in the deep snow, the hunters walking upon snow-shoes. At this moment the snow is not over a foot deep at the base of the mountain, and it is very thin elsewhere in the north. At Hanover it is entirely gone, and the ground is rapidly settling. It is probable, therefore, that the winter is mostly over, for there are no large areas of snow in the north to chill the atmosphere and freeze the moisture into flakes of snow. And there will be no snow arch this year in Tuckerman's Ravine, for the same reason.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

The New York Season tells tales out of school, about some of the theatrical managers. It says: "Carriages are said to have been hired by a panomaker to stand in front of Booth's Theatre during the Wehli matinee to give an air of fashion to the arduous undertaking. This beats the Strakosch dodge of getting the Wallack supers to personate Scandinavians and draw Nilsson from the first four dollar concert to her hotel."

The San Francisco Bulletin thinks that the Rothschilds, who have a thirty years' lease of the Almaden quicksilver mines in Spain, and a monopoly of the sale of quicksilver in London, have now also virtually obtained control of the New Almaden mines in California, whereby, it says, "a single house will have the monopoly of all the quicksilver of the world. The New Idria will be swept into the same current, if it has not been already; and as for the other small mines, they will be gobbled up when the time comes."

A writer in the New York Tribune says that the Turkish bath has been successfully used in Great Britain as an antidote for the cravings of the drunkard, and has proved itself as the most effective remedy yet known.

A fifty thousand pound hammer is being placed in position at the New Albany steam forge works. Under this monster hammer is imbedded eleven thousand feet of timber, and upon the sides is nine thousand feet, making in all twenty thousand feet of heavy oak timber for a foundation.

Apart from any bearing the facts may have on the "labor question," it is interesting to know that Chinese shoemakers at North Adams are a "success," their workmanship being equal to the same number of American mechanics. It is said that while sticking to their blue cotton Chinese blouse, and refusing to part with the queue, in other respects they have adopted the ordinary dress of this country. As operatives, Mr. Sampson says that "they are absolutely unexceptionable." Several benevolent persons teach these foreigners on Sunday, and they have shown great aptness for the acquisition of the English language. Facts like these demonstrate the utter wickedness of maltreating a peaceful and harmless class of immigrants.

On the trip of Drs. Howe and Wheelwright to the interior of San Domingo, the Alcalde of a little village called on them, and seeing a traveling flask in Dr. Wheelwright's pocket, invited them to come and take a drink with him. Arrived at his house, he produced glasses and water, and then tapping the doctor on the pocket, softly murmured—'Rum, rum.' And so the party took a drink with the Alcalde. So says the Boston Post.

The celebrated bread and butter trees of the tropics have been thrown into the shade by the remarkable discovery, it is said, of a lard tree in the interior of Illinois. Chicago enterprise has discovered the fact that a chunk of this tree weighing from twelve to twenty pounds, being inserted in the lard tierce, weighs just as much as the same number of pounds of lard, while it is a great deal cheaper than the product of the animal fed on corn at fifty cents per bushel. Nobody can tell the difference until the tierce is opened and the lard turned out; if there be then any objection it is only necessary to give the buyer a lesson in the latest developed ethics of mixing grain and provisions to reconcile him to the fact. What next?

The latest novelty in means of transportation are palace stock cars for carrying valuable horses. They are already in use on several Eastern railroad lines. But little time is consumed in loading them. The horses when in the car appear to be as comfortable as could be desired, each being separately stalled, with ample facilities for feeding and watering without any unshipping. They will travel with as much comfort to themselves as human beings do in the Pullman Palace Car.

It is reported that the Harpers have suffered to the extent of $40,000 for Nast's caricatures of the pope—all the school books they publish having been taken off the list used in the New York public schools.

At a recent New York dinner, the names of the guests, designating their places at the table, were painted on rubber balloons which floated over the table, being fastened by long strings, one to the stem of each man's gob'et. The effect was very novel, and provocative of many jokes.

It is still asserted that a secret coalition exists between the bituminous and anthracite coal miners, and that the Johnstown protest was gotten up by anthracite leaders, because they felt that their cause was damaged by this fact getting before an impartial public.

Notwithstanding the tremendous velocity of the wind in great storms, the onward progress of the storms themselves is comparatively slow. Buchan, in his work on meteorology, states that a West Indian hurricane moves forward at a rate of only fifteen miles an hour, and that the highest speed of European storms is but forty-five miles an hour.

The story has been told about a "fiend in human shape" shooting a military engineer in Maine, not long since. Pious gentlemen picked the unfortunate man from the ground where he had fallen, and believing him mortally wounded, made an examination with a view of determining the nature of the injury. The engineer was found without a scratch, the bullet having imbedded itself in a book which was in his breast pocket, directly over the region where lay the vital organ aimed at by the assassin. They pulled the book reverently out, supposing from its appearance that it was a Bible, but were hugely disgusted and spiritually dejected when they found it to be a deceitfully bound copy of one of Miss Muhlbach's sensation novels.

PERSONAL.

Gail Hamilton, the spicy and vigorous, has been interviewed by a member of Congress from New York, who jots down the conversation and his impressions. He found her short, with a round, plump figure, a large mouth, with full lips and white teeth, and flaxen hair, fine as the fleece of gold, which is thrown back from her broad, high forehead in the utmost apparent or real carelessness. In manner she is lively, and her movements are quick. She dresses in dark colors, as becomes her style, and her language is fluent and pointed. He met her at a brilliant reception, and, after some lively chaff, she deprecated the idea that she could be so impolite as to abuse him for being a Democrat: "it is only because you are a man," said she. Upon his expressing sorrow for that crime, she replied: "Do not call it a crime; mention it as your superiority (with a malicious bitterness that was charming); your innate right to rule, your royal prerogative, as you really think it is;" and some more badinage followed, at the close of which she granted him mercy in consideration of his weakness and helplessness. No wonder he thinks her ready to fight a battle with her hereditary enemies, the male sex, on the slightest provocation.

Rev. Dr. E. D. Saunders has given his property in the city of Philadelphia, comprising the Courtland Saunders college buildings and their lots, and valued at $150,000, to the Presbyterian alliance, for a hospital; with one encumbrance of $40,000 to secure to himself and wife an annuity of $4,000 per year for their lives, to be reduced one-fourth in case of his death, and one-half in case of hers. He also engages to collect $25,000 for the charity's present benefit, and remain its begging agent hereafter. The alliance accept, with thanks.

A German couple, Mr. and Mrs. Z. Lichenstein, residents of Chicago, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding on the 22d, at the Germania Mænnerchor Hall, and the occasion was one of more than ordinary interest. Mr. Liebenstein is a well known capitalist of Chicago, where he has lived for fifteen years. He is eighty years of age and has eighteen sons and daughters, ten of whom are still in Germany.

Colonel Batchelder has taken his famous painting of the "Battle of Gettysburg" to Providence, by request of the Governor of Rhode Island.

Among the accomplished women no longer seen upon the topmost wave of Washington society may be mentioned Mrs. Genetal Williams, better known as Mrs. Stephen A. Douglas, and the elegant wife of Senator Sprague. Both have known what is to reign as "Queen of beauty and fashion," and both have retired before the noon of life to the substantial comforts and enduring peace to be found only in the smooth waters of domestic life.

The following story is told of a New Orleans belle: In company with several friends she was examining a fine picture gallery and admiring the beautiful paintings as only the intelligent and refined admire works of art. Finally she approached a group of paintings, in the center of which was a large looking glass which reflected the young lady's full length picture. One of the gentlemen, pointing to it, said: said: "See, Miss Laura what a splendid picture." "Yes," she said, glancing at it hurriedly, and not perceiving that it was her own reflection, "it is a passable painting, but the subject is homely." "Indeed, are you in earnest?" "Certainly, quite a fright." "Look at it again." She did; but it is curious to observe that since then a noticeable coolness has sprung up between the young lady and her admirer.

NOTWITHSTANDING the fact that the Government has expended about half a million dollars in endeavoring to clear away the bar in the Mississippi, at Southwest pass, the New Orleans Bulletin says the obstruction was never more formidable than at present, and ships of seventeen feet draft continue to lie outside for nature or art to effect in their behalf the required deobstruction. From the teachings of the most advanced geology, it is claimed that two great facts are pretty well established. First, that the removal of the bar would be fatal to the whole alluvial country bordering on the Mississippi; and second, that its removal is an impossibility as long as the river is subject to the conditions which now govern it. The problem to be solved, then, is to get around or over this obstruction. To do the first would involve the necessity of constructing a canal, capable of admitting the largest sea-going vessels, but the difficulties, pecuniary and physical, which would attend such a work are considered to be so great as to render it wholly impracticable. To get over the bar, however, it is conceived does not depend upon means of indefinitely remote attainment or of doubtful practicability, and hence the problem would be narrowed down to the adoption of some method of lifting vessels at the bar so as to float them across regardless of the varying depth of the channel. With the bar surmounted, New Orleans, it is believed, would become one of the greatest sea ports of the world, possessing as it does one of the safest of harbors and one of practically unlimited capacity.

DURING the coming month elections will take place in Connecticut and Rhode Island. On Monday, April 3d, in Connecticut, a Governor and other State officers, and members of Congress will be chosen, and on Wednesday, April 5th, in Rhode Island, State officers and members of the Legislature will be voted for. In Connecticut the Republican candidates for the principal positions are Marshall Jewell for Governor, and Julius L. Strong, Stephen W. Kellogg, Henry H. Starkweather and George Coffing for Congress, the first three having been members of the forty-first Congress. The Democratic candidates are James E. English for reelection as Governor, and Alfred R. Goodrich, John Kendrick, John W. Stedman and William H. Barnum for Congress, the last-named gentleman having been a member of the forty-first Congress. In Rhode Island Seth Padelford, the present incumbent, is the Republican, and Thomas Steen is the Democratic candidate for Governor.

THE Harrisburg correspondent of the Philadelphia Post says: "The candidates for Auditor General who seem to be the most prominent are Dr. David Stanton, of Beaver, a relative of the late Edwin M. Stanton; Miles S. Humphreys, of Allegheny, a member of the House; Senator Harrison Allen, of Warren; Senator Bilingfelt, of Lancaster; D. B. McCreary, of Erie, and F. C. Houghton, of Chester. Dr. Stanton appears to be the strongest man, and his friends claim that there is no doubt of his nomination, with a strong probability of winning on the first ballot."

SOME friends of Mr. Sumner in Philadelphia extended to him an invitation which he has declined. The public will thus lose an oration from Mr. Sumner on the question of his removal from the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, as he undoubtedly would have been expected to speak on this subject if the banquet had taken place. It is probable that the Senator made a wise decision.

Philadelphia Collectorship.

[From the Philadelphia Bulletin.]

If it be true that President Grant has appointed Col. John W. Forney Collector of the Port of Philadelphia, many people will be surprised, in view of the manly and independent criticism of the Press of the course of the President's friends in ousting Mr. Sumner from the Foreign Relations Committee. But if Col. Forney accepts the post, the Government will get an intelligent and faithful officer, whose claims upon the administration for efficient service are far stronger than most of its appointees. Doubtless the friends of the various disappointed applicants for the Collectorship will find fault with the President's selection; but the mass of the Republican party will commend it. We take some pride as journalists in acknowledging the compliment the President pays to the profession in choosing one of its most prominent members for a high and honorable position.

A GENTLEMAN with the San Domingo Commissioners writes as follows concerning the Dominicans:

Familiar as I have been with all the races of the sons of men, I have never seen the match of this people for the personal grace and beauty of its males. But about the eyes there is a deep-seated, abiding expression of despondency and melancholy that is exceedingly touching. It is literally a sad-eyed nation. The wrongs of the aborigines and the sufferings of their mixed descendants appear to have entered into the anatomy of the race and left their indelible mark upon their features. But as we cross the frontier all this will be changed. The fierce and blood-thirsty Haytien, who still maintains his Old worship in the recesses of the mountains, has no affinity with the gentle, loving and trusting Dominican. But this is a digression. I avail myself of it to say that the dweller on the plain is precisely like the native of the city, and that we must not judge the population of these islands by the unprincipled and venal crowd of strangers who frequent their larger towns.

ON the subject of caste in Hayti, a recent letter says: "The pure whites are all foreigners and their descendants. They are 'outer barbarians,' denied the right of franchise, justice in the courts of law, and the privilege of holding real estate. If a Caucasian should be fortunate enough to captivate a Haytien brunette, however, his wife may own property in her own right, and thus far can he be raised from his degradation; but he can never hope to be placed upon an equal footing with the superior race. His color will always remain a bar, and he will be forever excluded from the privileges of the black man. Such is caste in Hayti."

Be Guided by What You Know.

There is an old proverb which says, "Experience is the safest guide." To this guide the sick and ailing naturally turn when casting about for the means of relief. They inquire what a medicine has done for others before they adopt it themselves. Of all the remedies and preventives in use, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters meets the test most triumphantly, and hence its immense popularity and vast sales. The sufferer from indigestion is sure to find some one among his friends who has been cured of that ailment by the famous vegetable stomachic. The victim of fever and ague, liver complaint, constipation, nervous prostration, or general debility, has only to make inquiry in the neighborhood where he resides in order to discover what this standard restorative has effected in cases similar to his own. In the published testimony to its merits he will find a volume of proofs of its sanitary properties, which it is impossible for his common sense to resist. He tries it, and the effect it produces on his system adds another to the host of witnesses in its favor. Thus, its reputation, founded on facts, not assertions, continually grows and spreads. Charlatans and impostors, some of them mere local tricksters, and others who take a somewhat wider range, attempt to thrust into the hands and down the throats of invalids, their haphazard concoctions, as substitutes for the tonic which for so many years has been a medicinal staple throughout the United States, Spanish America, Canada, and the West Indies, but only succeed to a very limited extent. In this reasoning age, the people having ascertained what is really deserving of their confidence, decline "running after strange gods."

FINANCE AND TRADE

FRIDAY EVENING, March 24, 1871.

Some of the Eastern papers say there is a steady and strengthening market for the new 5 per cent. refunding loan. The Secretary of the Treasury expresses himself as quite satisfied with the success that has attended the offerings of the loan thus far. It is reported that he has advices from London to the effect that there are willing subscribers there for the entire amount of one hundred million dollars of 5 per cents. now on the market for subscription there, provided the limit of twenty days, which expires on the 26th inst., is withdrawn or extended. The object of the Secretary fixing a limit was to give both sides an equal chance in making subscriptions. If, however, at the expiration of the twenty days the $100,000,000 offered on this side of the water is not taken, and the European bankers wish to take the balance, it is said Secretary Boutwell will accept their proposition. This should, and no doubt will, stimulate domestic takers to prompt action for the few remaining days of this week. In this connection the New York Evening Post gives a very proper interpretation of the Public Credit act of March 18, 1869, elicited by a report in financial centers that the Secretary of the Treasury cannot call in the 5-20s even after they reach the par of gold, until the greenback circulation is equal to gold. The 5-20s will not, of course, be called in while they are below the par of gold, as a medium of paying in subscriptions to the new 5 per cent. loan; but after they become the equivalent of gold, in common with the new stock bearing a lower rate of interest; the whole of the 5-20s of 1862, 1864 and 1865 are liable to be called in for redemption after three months' notice.

—The Wall street markets to-day were pretty much the same as yesterday. The New York Post says of it as follows: The stock market was strong at the opening, but became dull and barely steady before the call, and continued so until after twelve o'clock, when it again became strong, and is so at the time of writing. The features have been the following stocks, which have fluctuated between the prices opposite each: Northwest 83⅞ and 84⅞; the preferred 96 and 96⅛; Lake Shore 99⅞ and 100⅛; Wabash 56⅛ and 57⅛; Rock Island 114⅛ and 114⅝; St. Paul 59 and 59⅝; the preferred 78⅛ and 78⅝. Western Union Telegraph and Ohio and Mississippi have been exceptionally weak, the former having fallen from 59 to 57⅛, and Ohio and Mississippi from 49 to 46⅞. There is more disposition to deal in dividend paying stocks, although, in Ohio and Mississippi and Western Union, there are strong cliques, so that it is dangerous to sell them short. New York Central and Hudson has been steady on both stock and certificates. In the Express list Adams and United States have been strong, American steady and Wells-Fargo weak. The low-priced miscellaneous shares have been neglected.

—The following table, made up from dispatches received at J. W. Kennedy's Stock Rooms, Apollo building, No. 80 Fourth avenue, shows the prices of Railway Stocks, Gold, etc., at the various sessions of the New York Stock Exchange during the day:

—A statement of the business of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company for the past nine months, while showing a diminution in gross receipts of about half a million as compared with the corresponding months of last year, exhibits at the same time a decrease of a million and a quarter in the operating expenses. The exact figures are as follows:

Gross earnings for nine months ending February 28, 1870	$9,570,094 29
Gross earnings for nine months ending February 28, 1871	9,036,173 06
Diminution in gross earnings	$533,916 23
Expenses for nine months ending February 28, 1870	6,353,284 08
Expenses for nine months ending February 28, 1871	5,086,600 99
Actual reduction in operating expenses	$1,266,683 09
Diminution in gross earnings same period	533,916 23
Net increase for nine months	$732,766 86

The same rate of interest for the remainder of the fiscal year would show a total improvement in the net earnings of $977,002 48. We have carefully examined a detailed statement of all the items that make up the account of the large sum saved in expenditures, and find that they include nearly every one of the multitudinous expenses of a gigantic railway establishment, even to sums paid for salaries and wages, which would seem to indicate that railway managers are gradually becoming awake to the fact that strict economy is as essential to success in their line of business as in any other.

—JAMES W. KENNEDY, Broker, No. 80 Fourth avenue, (Apollo Building), dealer in Government, State and Municipal Bonds; Railroad, Bank, Insurance and Miscellaneous Stocks. Represented daily at the New York Stock Exchange, he buys and sells stocks on a margin for the same commission and on the same terms as the New York brokers. Money to loan in sums of $500 and upwards on collateral or well indorsed promissory notes, or on mortgages on city or Allegheny county real estate.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, FRIDAY, March 24, 1871.

REMARKS—As predicted yesterday, we have had a spell of weather, i e, a snow storm, which will have the effect of retarding operations of "fast gardeners," who seem desirous of "forcing the season," as well as to diminish, for a time, the volume of sales of the onions," and the hundred and one varieties of seeds which go to make up the outfit of an amateur bona fide gardener. But the good time is coming," and will soon be here. Winter must give way to spring, and spring be succeeded by summer. But since to speculations on the weather and the seasons—which, by the way, has much to do with the general markets. We have few changes to note in the tone or general character of the markets. Prices, in the main, remain unchanged. In all leading articles, imported or manufactured, stocks are full, and were selected and made with a view to meet the wants of the wholesale and retail trade. As before stated, dry goods jobbers are receiving their supplies, and are prepared to meet all demands that may be made upon them. In the lines of flour, grain, groceries, bacon and produces the stocks are ample, and we notice many country dealers making heavy purchases, to say nothing of city retail dealers, who daily replenish their stocks. Business may, therefore, be denominated fairly active for the season. The produce and local markets continue to be well supplied.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL OFFICE, FRIDAY, March 24, 1871.

Cattle.

The arrivals of cattle to-day light, both of through and way cattle. The market this week to this time has been very good, in fact excited. We noticed a bunch of cattle from Salem, Ohio, sold to Mr. Thomas Lamb for 8½c., the highest price reached for some time. The prospect for cattle for next week at this time is good, but the prices for which cattle have sold this week will undoubtedly bring a full supply on the market, and they will decline. Below find quotations ruling to-day:

Extra, 1,200 to 1,500 steers, $7 25@7 62; good to prime, 1,100 to 1,200, $6 50@6 75; common to medium, 1,000 to 1,100, $5 50@6 00; bulls, stags and cows, 800 to 1,500, $4 00@5 00; stock steers, 800 to 1,000, $4 50@5 50.

Hogs.

The arrival of hogs to-day has been heavy. The market is not brisk, but a good many hogs are selling for Baltimore at prices about 7½c. Good prime hogs are in full supply and selling very slow at 8c, the top of the market. The prospect is that the demand will not be so heavy for a few days and that hogs will go lower. Below find quotations and sales:

HOGS—Extra Philadelphia $8; good to prime Philadelphia, 225 to 250, $7 25@7 50; good to prime New York, 180 to 220, $7@7 25; rough to common, $6 50; stiller's $6 50@7 00.

Sheep.

The run of sheep heavy to-day. The market on prime sheep remains about the same as yesterday, while on shorn the market is bad. The cold weather we are having is very hard on shorn sheep. When killed the meat turns black, and dealers will not purchase them while they can obtain wooled sheep. Below find quotations: Good to prime 85 to 90 lbs, $6 50@6 75; decent to fair, 75 to 80 lbs, $6 00@6 25; mean to common 70 to 75 lbs, $5 00@5 25; foot rot and scalawags, by the head, none; clipped, $4 00 @5 00.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, March 25, 1871.

The lethargy so prevalent in this market for raw irons during the last month, arising from a difference in views entertained by producers and consumers in reference to present and early prospective values of standard pig, has, we are glad to say, yielded to the necessities of the trade.

Immediately succeeding our last weekly review consumers needing stock came forward and purchased freely of such stock as their mixtures required.

The result is we have an unusually active market to report, with heavy sales of standard forge, principally for forward deliveries, extending in some cases to June.

Thirty-five dollars, four months, may now be regarded the established price for the time, for good grades of bituminous and anthracite coal-smelted gray forge with $1@2 50 per ton advance for Nos. 1 and 2 anthracite foundry.

These look like high rates, fully $5 per ton advance on rates current at the opening of the new year, and would seem to demand an advance in merchant bars, nails, &c., to protect mill owners against absolute loss.

Charcoal stock sympathizes but partially either in activity or the advance in other descriptions.

Hanging Rock Nos. 1 and 2 foundry, which have been exceedingly dull, are now inquired for, and sales are quoted at full $2@3 per ton advance on rates current a fortnight since. Hanging Rock forge stock is also better, in sympathy with others. We note small sales at $35@36, 4 months.

In other charcoal irons a moderately fair business is doing at somewhat improved rates.

There is some inquiry for blooms. We are quoted one sale of 400 tons Juniata, but the price is withheld.

We are quoted the following sales:

IRON MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

March 22.—Pig iron is getting scarce and has advanced fully $1 per ton, with a large demand from commission merchants and consumers. Many of the furnaces are stopped, awaiting the accumulation of next season's stock of coal and ore. We quote:

Foundry hot blast No. 1	$34@36
Foundry hot blast No. 2	33@35
Mill hot blast	32@34
Cold blast, carwheel	56@63
Bituminous Belfont	34@35
Bituminous Ashland	32@35

Bar iron is in good request and prices firmer and tending upward.

There is a large demand for nails at full rates.

All the mills and foundries are running full force. Grant Furnace is making a fine yield of superior cold blast iron. Ashland, recently put in blast again, is taking her burden handsomely.

Belfont is still doing finely.—Journal.

NEW YORK.

March 23—American Pig—The stock of all kinds of pig iron is light and supplies are doubtful; still consumers manifest little disposition to purchase, preferring to take their chances than pay the present prices. Consumption, too, is light, except in Pennsylvania, where the demand is good. Prices are firm, but in the unsettled state of the market quotations are difficult. We quote No. 1 foundry at $34 to $36; No. 2, $32 to $34.

Scotch Pig—Scotch iron is exceedingly firm, with few sales; stocks are small. We quote Gartsherrie at $34 to $34 50; Coltness $34; Glengarnock $33 50; Eglinton $32 to $32 50.—Iron Age.

Albany Cattle Market.

ALBANY, March 24.—Cattle—The receipts are light thus far, and the market shows a good feeling. The average quality of the offerings are superior to those of last week, and prices have advanced fully ½c, with a strong upward tendency. The range was from 5½@8c; nothing doing in milch cows. Sheep—Market favors buyers; average quality of the offerings not so good as last week, and prices range from $6 50@7 00.

First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds

OF THE

Northern Pacific Railway Co

These Bonds are secured, first, by a First Mortgage on the Railroad itself, its rolling stock, and all equipments; second, by a First Mortgage on its entire Land Grant, being more than Twenty-two Thousand Acres of Land to each mile of road.

The Bonds are free from United States Tax. The Principal and Interest are payable in Gold—the Principal at the end of Thirty Years, and the Interest Semi-annually at the rate of SEVEN AND THREE-TENTHS PER CENT. per annum.

They are issued in denominations of $100, $500 $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The Trustees under the Mortgage are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company.

These Northern Pacific 7-30 Bonds will at all times, before maturity, be receivable at TEN PER CENT. PREMIUM (or 1 10) in exchange for the Company's lands at their lowest cash price.

In addition to their absolute safety, these Bonds yield an income larger, we believe, than any other first-class security. Persons holding United States 5-20's can, by converting them into Northern Pacifics, increase their yearly income one third, and still have a perfectly reliable investment.

HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these Bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other Bonds for these, can do so with any of our Agents, who will allow the highest current prices for all marketable securities.

Those living in localities remote from Banks may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific Bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. For further information, pamphlets, maps, etc., call on or address the undersigned, or any of the Banks or Bankers employed to sell this Loan.

"After thorough investigation, we have accepted an agency for the sale of these popularly approved Bonds, and confidently recommend them to our customers and investors generally."

THURSDAY'S Cincinnati Enquirer says: "The first of the coal fleet arrived yesterday. The Tom Rees No. 2, Collier, Veteran, Hercules and Veteran No. 2 arrived."

THE New Albany Ledger says: "A frightful tale of marine disaster comes from the Wabash Canal. The Green Rabbit sank the Dead Beat in a collision, but the crew of the wrecked vessel were taken off by the Tobacco Posey."

THE fine passenger steamer Lorena, Capt. Shuman, is announced for Cairo, St. Louis and St. Paul. She is an A No. 1 boat, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Captain J. M. Vandergrift has charge of the office.

CAPTAIN ED. F. DIX wants to buy a steamboat, suitable for the St. Louis and New Orleans trade, to take the place of the Mollie Able.

All right. If the Captain will purchase the steamer Glencoe he can boast of owning the best money making sidewheel boat afloat. It will take a good sized pile of greenbacks to cause that boat to change owners.

THE Lacrosse Republican says: "We learn that the packet companies will enter into a new arrangement for carrying passengers, which will reduce the cost of travel on the river to a much lower rate than last year. The plan is to charge a stipulated sum, say $2, for transportation from Lacrosse to St. Paul, without meals and berths, and $5 with meals and berths, leaving it optional with passengers to provide their own provisions or get their meals from the boats, charging them simply for just what they have and nothing more. This will enable the packet companies to compete successfully with the railroads for the passenger business."

THE MOUNTAIN TRADE.—The St. Louis Republican says: "Our contemporaries have had a good deal to say with regard to the mountain trade this season. They have been greatly exercised over the contract for the transportation of the Government stores. Telegraphic dispatches have been sent by at least one of our contemporaries to know who had the contract. Our readers in this department are assured that the very latest intelligence of a reliable character may be found in our columns; and further, we cannot see that the general public are interested in the matter. When the contract is awarded it is time to speak of the matter. Speculation does not reveal the facts in any case."

FIRST RAFT OF THE SEASON.—Pete Kirns landed the first raft of the season yesterday—a lumber raft containing 500,000 feet, and shingles and laths 200,000—for Eau Claire Lumber Company. As Kirns is the first pilot to run a raft through the Keokuk bridge this spring, he advises pilots to run the left hand draw span and not try to put over six strings through, as that is all that will go through. The span left of the draw spans are not finished, and there will be obstructions in the way until finished. Of the Hannibal bridge there is nothing but the piers up. The span on the right hand shore would be the best run, if there is no obstruction in the way, as ten strings will go through at one time.

Hoofland's German Bitters,

A Bitters WITHOUT ALCOHOL OR SPIRITS of any kind, is Different from all others. It is composed of the pure juices, or VITAL PRINCIPLE OF ROOTS, HERBS and BARKS, (or, as medically termed, Extracts), the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore, in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medical virtue as will be found in several gallons of ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, where they are compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others; no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use; they cannot make drunkards, and cannot, under any circumstances, have any but a beneficial effect.

Hoofland's German Tonic

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme Bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each Bottle of the Tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the Bitters is overcome, forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasing to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1 50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article? A medical preparation should contain none but the best ingredients, and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefitted by it, will most certainly be cheated.

The Whole Supreme Court of Pennsylvania Speak for These Remedies.

Who would ask for more Dignified and Stronger Testimony?

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, formerly Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, at present Member of Congress from Philadelphia, writes: PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867. I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action in the system. Yours truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD.

HON. JAMES THOMPSON, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1867. I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON.

HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, Justice of the Supreme Court Pennsylvania. PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1868. I have found by experience that "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a very good tonic, relieving dyspeptic symptoms almost directly. GEORGE SHARSWOOD.

HON. WM. F. ROGERS, Mayor of the City of Buffalo, New York. MAYOR'S OFFICE, BUFFALO, June 22, 1869. I have used "Hoofland's German Bitters and Tonic" in my family during the past year, and can recommend them as an excellent tonic, imparting tone and vigor to the system. Their use has been productive of decidedly beneficial effects. WM. F. ROGERS.

HON. JAMES M. WOOD, ex-Mayor of Williamsport, Pa. I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep any food on my stomach, and I became so weak as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure. JAMES M. WOOD.

REMEMBER THAT

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

AND

WILL CURE EVERY CASE OF

MARASMUS,

OR WASTING AWAY OF THE BODY.

REMEMBER THAT

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES

Are the medicines you require to purify the Blood, excite the torpid Liver to healthy action, and to enable you to pass safely through any hardships or exposure.

DR. HOOFLAND'S

PODOPHYLLIN,

OR

SUBSTITUTE FOR MERCURY PILLS,

TWO PILLS A DOSE.

The Most Powerful, Yet Innocent, Vegetable Cathartic known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels of all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it speedily from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases, in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, REGULATES the Liver and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain its hold, or ever assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by Express to any locality, upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE, at the GERMAN MEDICINE STORE, 631 ARCH STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

PROPRIETOR,

Question of Ku-Klux Legislation.

Great Diversity of Opinion—The President Not to be Empowered to Use the Military Without a Demand from Governor's of States—The San Domingo Commissioners Expected Monday Morning—Arrival of Senator Clayton, &c., &c.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 24, 1871.

Ku-Klux Legislation.

The House Special Committee on Southern outrages, to which has been referred the President's message, on this subject, have as yet agreed upon nothing. They have already held two sessions, at which Ku-Klux matters have been largely discussed. To-day they adjourned until Monday next, and the members thereof, as Dawes and Butler, took occasion to leave the city on a short visit, the former to Massachusetts and the latter to Fortress Monroe. The first question which came under consideration was whether any bill whatever should be reported on this question. All the Republican members of the Committee are generally agreed that the President's message requires this much at their hands. The next question, as to what kind of a bill to report has been more difficult of solution. The conservative Republicans generally agree with the Democrats on the proposition, that no bill should be reported which confers upon the President power to use the military at his discretion in suppressing Ku-Klux. These members of this committee are of opinion that the existing enactments already give the Executive sufficient authority to at least enforce the collection of the revenue and insure safety and protection of the mails. In this opinion the Democrats and conservative Republicans are supported by a majority of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and by a large number of prominent members of the House. The Democratic members of the committee are unequivocally pledged to resist all bills which look towards conferring upon the President power to use the military in Southern States without a demand first being made by the Governors thereof, and several Republicans will support them in this position. The old Senate proposition, to make old officers of the present character solely triable in Federal Courts, the jurors whereof are to take a prescribed form of oath, thus far meets with most general concurrence. Still views are so conflicting that it is impossible to predict what the final action will be.

The Navy Department has advices that the Tennessee left Key West for Charleston yesterday morning, so the commissioners, if not detained by accident, will arrive here on Monday morning, in ample time to hear Sumner's address on subjects connected with their mission.

Powell Clayton,

Senator elect from Arkansas, has arrived here and will be sworn in on Monday next.

WASHINGTON, March 24, 1871.

British Parliament.

LONDON, March 24.—In the House of Lords to-day, debate arose on the policy of the British Government toward China, which was denounced by Earl Granville and the Duke of Somerset. Granville stated that a British man-of-war had been stationed at each Chinese port with orders to act, in cases of outrage after communicating with the legation at Pekin.

In the House of Commons Mr. Gladstone said the Government had no intention of prosecuting any of the speakers at the recent Republican meeting in London for treasonable language. It was announced that the Easter recess of Parliament will commence on the 4th and last until the 17th of Apail. Mr. Stansfeld announced that the opinion of the law officers of the Crown was adverse to making reclamations on France for injuries to British subjects residing in that country, and Mr. Gladstone followed this up with the statement that the Government was not disposed to press claims against France for the property of British subjects destroyed. Mr. Gregory moved a resolution looking to the improvement of laborers' cottages in Ireland. The motion was supported by the Marquis of Hartington and others.

Germans Roughly Handled at Bucharest.

BUCHAREST, March 23.—While the Germans here were engaged in celebrating the birthday of the Emperor, they were attacked by a mob, and several persons injured. The German Consul, who was present, was roughly handled by the rioters. The Ministers and Prefect of Police have resigned.

Inundation and Earthquakes in Peru—Rich Gold Discoveries in Chili.

ASPINWALL, March 21, via KINGSTON, March 24.—News from Peru to the 14th announces that the government has ordered the payment of the claims of merchants who suffered by the sacking of Callao in 1865. There were terrible floods in the neighborhood of Lima, and the rising of Runoe river threatened serious injury to the city. Much property was destroyed.

The railroad was damaged in several places. A number of persons were drowned, and plantations near the town of Supe were destroyed. There was much suffering among the poor for want of provisions. Fears were entertained that the inundation would increase.

Several earthquakes were experienced in Arequipa and Jaena. The shocks were preceded by an electric storm.

Rich gold deposits have been discovered in Cordova, Chili.

NEWS SUMMARY

BY TELEGRAPH.

The trial of Dennis Gunn, the murderer of Edward J. Murphy, was concluded in the Fourth District Court of San Francisco last evening. It was shown that on the 31st of December Gunn received an anonymous letter, telling him his sister, fifteen years of age, had been debauched by Murphy, who was a notorious seducer, having three wives living. He immediately charged his sister with the fact, and she acknowledged it. He then took a pistol, went on the street, found Murphy and shot him down. The defense proved that Murphy's character was abominable, and that he had boasted of seducing Miss Gunn under promise of marriage; that Gunn's character was good. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty after being out a few minutes, the whole audience joining in cheers, which could not be repressed. The court instantly adjourned.

Henry White and Henry Mooke, printers, attacked W. A. McClay, proprietor of the Memphis Sun, in that city yesterday, shooting him through the leg and a slight wound in the head. They were arrested and gave bail. The trouble grew out of a strike.

It is thought the bill calling on Congress for troops will not pass the Mississippi Senate, the Governor's party being in the majority in that body.

The Arkansas Legislature will adjourn to-day.

In the Brooklyn divorce case of Edward Kellogg against his wife Rebecca, the jury found a verdict in favor of the defendant.

In the impeachment trial of Gov. Butler, at Lincoln, Neb., Mr. Estabrook closed the argument for the prosecution last evening. The argument will probably close to-day. The excitement over the trial is high, the Senate chamber being packed. Butler is reported dejected.

A St. Thomas telegram states that Luperon has captured Savanita and Guyabia, and is preparing to march on Santiago.

The receipts of revenue from distilled spirits in Southern Ohio for the five months ending February 1st have fallen off, as compared with the previous year, nineteen per cent.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 23, 1871.

THE FENIAN CONVENTION

This afternoon passed a resolution expressing willingness to unite with the Irish Confederation, in case the latter would consent to have the united organization governed by a body composed of five members of the Fenian Brotherhood and five members of the Irish Confederation.

WARNING TO THE PARISIANS

If the Enciente is Rearmed, The Germans Will Reopen Fire on the City.

The French Government Unable to Protect German Subjects in France.

The German Warning to Paris—Meeting of Workingmen.

LONDON, March 24.—Dispatches from Berlin alter the terms of the warning given by the Germans to Paris. The announcement as officially reported is to the effect that if any attempt is made by the Parisians to rearm the enciente, the Germans will reopen fire upon the city. No time for such action is specified.

The unemployed workmen of Paris were to hold a public meeting yesterday. The call for the meeting was of the most inflammatory character.

The Mayor of Lille has issued a proclamation inviting volunteers to march on Paris.

The Echo du Nord publishes a letter from Chevreau to President Thiers, denying that Rouher is in any way responsible for the disturbances in Paris.

Official notice is given that Germans going to Paris cannot have their passports visèd, and if they go without them they are liable to be stopped on the frontier. The reason is that the French authorities are unable to give efficient protection to German subjects in France.

TREASURE SEARCH.

Expedition to the South American Coast in Pursuit of Treasure Lost Fifty-five Years Ago.

An expedition will start from New York, May 1st, for the port of Cumana, Venezuela, to work upon the old wreck of the Spanish line-of-battle ship San Pedro de Alcantra, sunk in that harbor, in 1815, with a very large amount of specie, estimated at $3,000,000 in doubloons, and other valuables, on board. The expedition goes out under the auspices of the American Submarine Company, of which General A. E. Burnside is President. The sunken vessel was the flagship of a fleet of thirty sent out by Spain in February, 1815, with a view of subjugating the young Republics of South America. This fleet anchored in Cumana Bay in April of the same year. The Spaniards were unsuccessful in their efforts to subjugate the city of Cumana, but pillaged the Cathedral, and the loyal residents transferred their gold and silver plate and other valuables on board the flag ship, some fifteen days being spent in this operation. On the eve of the departure of the fleet fire was discovered in the spirit room of the San Pedro. The flames spread very rapidly and were soon seen streaming from the portholes forward and aft. The fire speedily reached the deck and rendered the attempt to launch the boats ineffectual. As the guns were all loaded none of the other vessels dared to approach, and while the air was filled with the screams of the women and children, the ship's after magazine exploded. The whole stern of the San Pedro was blown into the air, and the vessel sank in ten fathoms of water, with about 800 persons on board, not one of whom were saved. Several attempts have been made to recover the treasure lost by the destruction of this vessel. In 1854 a Boston company, after several months' work about the wreck, succeeded in recovering $75,000 in money and plate, and among other articles a diamond cross, which was sold in New York for $10,000. The enterprise was badly managed, and at length abandoned. Three years later, in 1857, another expedition was organized at Boston, and after spending nearly two years in the vicinity of the wreck, sailed homeward, having secured about $40,000; but the vessel was wrecked on the way and totally lost. In 1870 the Venezuelan government closed a contract with the American Submarine Company, stipulating for the payment of a royalty of seven per cent. on the treasure that may be recovered. The expedition, to leave on the 1st of May, under this contract, will cost about $50,000. Divers have lately secured from the wreck of the San Pedro great quantities of human bones and jewelry, and in a private collection in Boston there is a large piece of coral, from near the scene of the wreck, in which are embedded a number of silver dollars. The coral has grown around the pieces of money, and they now form a part of the mast.

STATE NEWS.

The Reading Times and Dispatch says: Samuel Derr, a soldier of the late war, disappeared from his home on the Mineral Spring road about one month ago, and has not since been heard of. He served during the whole of the rebellion, and at the close became paralyzed in the right side and speechless, and has remained so ever since. He is about 30 years of age, is 5 feet 7 inches in height, and has sandy hair and complexion. Any information of his whereabouts will be thankfully received by his uncle, Charles Breneiser, corner Seventh and Penn streets, and newspapers generally are requested to make a note of his disappearance.

Thomas Watson, the young man so seriously injured by the accidental discharge of a pistol at New Wilmington, Lawrence county, on the 22d of February, is recovering.

The Cambria Freeman says that John Nagle, who recently died in Clearfield township at the age of ninety-nine years, was one of the five oldest citizens of the northern portion of the county, the other four, still living, being Patrick McVey and Peter Kerrigan, of Allegheny township, each about one hundred years old, Patrick Malony, of the place, aged about ninety-seven, and Christopher Luther, of Carroll township, aged ninety-six years.

The Allentown Democrat thinks that the people of that place will soon have to buy coal by the quart if the famine continues.

An exhibition of trotting horses will take place at the Avon Park, Lebanon, on the 7th, 8th and 9th days of June next. The premiums are $2,100, and a large number of fast horses are expected.

One night recently dogs killed thirty-seven sheep belonging to two farmers in Fayette county.

The Lancaster Express says: "From all sections of the country we hear of unusually large flocks of wild geese, and a gentleman from Earlville informed us that one day last week no less than eighty of these fine game birds settled right on the ground in and near the above village. They seemed bewildered, as though they had been badly frightened, and many of them fell prey to the villagers. One goose that was captured on this occasion weighed thirteen pounds, dressed.

The Lebanon Courier says: On Tuesday morning the dead body of an unknown man, aged about twenty-five years, with sandy complexion, was found at the head of a lime kiln belonging to Messrs. Bohr & Barnhard, about half a mile west of Annville. Coroner Brook held an inquest on the body. Verdict of the jury, "Death from suffocation." The body was given in charge of Mr Brandt, steward of the almshouse, for interment.

A Gypsy woman attempted to steal an infant son of Charles Fisher, of Reading, one day this week, but Mrs. Fisher discovered her in the act and prevented its consummation.

Petroleum in San Domingo.

Mr. C. C. Fulton, of the Baltimore American, who accompanied the Commission to San Domingo, writes of the existence of petroleum in that island, among its other rare peculiarities. In company with Professor Marvin, of the scientific corps with the Commission, Mr. Fulton went on an excursion to Azua, and writing from that place, says: We were soon in a region redolent with petroleum and sulphur, and found a decayed derrick, two borings, and all the evidences of considerable oil having been extracted from Mother Earth, though all work had long since been abandoned. Several vats in the earth surrounded the well, one of which was full of oil, and from one of the borings the bubbling of gas through petroleum, which was within two inches of the surface, was visible to the eye and distinct to the hearing. Near the derrick the remains of an engine are standing, a perfect wreck, and the houses around have all gone to ruin. There is no doubt that over one hundred barrels of oil were taken from this well, and that it yielded a very superior article for lubricating purposes, but its distance, some miles from the sea shore, and the scarcity of vessels to transport it to a market, rendered the speculation a total failure.

The well was opened some three years since, and some eighty barrels of it were taken to Boston, where it was analyzed and found to be heavier and better suited for lubricating purposes than any oil found in the United States. The duties, however, were prohibitory, and after laying in bond for some time, it was reshipped, taken out to sea and disposed of by knocking the heads of the barrels out. Fifty barrels were also transported to the beach to be shipped to Germany, but no vessel arriving the barrels laid for months exposed in the sun, until the staves finally warped and let the contents gradually flow into the sands of the ocean.

Mr. Fulton adds:

About a quarter of a mile further north there is another flow of petroleum, exuding from the surface at various places, and flowing on the surface of a small stream. Professor Marvin was of opinion that this whole region is rich in petroleum deposits, and he also found abundance of sulphur scattered about in the vicinity. There is said to be an excavation in the vicinity from which sulphur has been mined, but we could not trace it, and our guide did not know its precise locality. How any one could have anticipated making a petroleum yield pay in this remote place, nine miles from the beach, over bad roads, and with the uncertainty of transportation to a market, seems most strange. If an augur was broken it had to be sent to Boston for repair, and nothing could be obtained here that was required for the work.

WITH the approach of summer pestilence is feared in those portions of France where were fought the great battles of the war. At Gravelotte especially is the danger of a plague imminent. The soil thereabout is rocky, and the dead left on the field at the end of the battle at that place were buried just beneath the surface, so as to leave many of the bodies at this date quite exposed. A correspondent of a Manchester journal went over this field and through the neighboring villages of Rezonville, Gravelotte, and St. Privat the other day, and his narrative of what he saw there, the desolation of the locality and the poverty-stricken condition of the people, and their wretched anticipations for the future, is painful in the extreme. The bodies of the dead, French and Prussian alike, are visible above the surface of the soil; the houses of the villagers are mere shells, windows, doors, cupboards and flooring being all gone; sickness and want are among the peasantry; the farmers of the locality, at the time the correspondent was there, were lamenting the absence of seed, and they said that unless they could procure a supply before the middle of this month, and have their land ploughed and sowed by that time, they would get no harvest at all this year. What is true of Gravelotte and its surroundings is true, in a great measure, of all that portion of France, and, indeed, of every part of the country into which the Germans penetrated. The progress of the Prussian troops was as fatal to life and property in France as was the presence of the soldiers of Spain in that dreadful campaign in the Netherlands.

CITY MATTERS IN BRIEF.

THE work of making the surveys for maps of this city, Allegheny and the surrounding boroughs, to be published by Mr. Convers, is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible. The surveys of Allegheny City are about completed. As it is the intention of the publisher to have these maps accurate in every particular, the work is a tedious one; but it is being well and faithfully performed by those having it in charge.

THE sudden change in the weather, which occurred on the 23d, has had quite a chilling effect. The mercury, which was for several days up in the seventies, dropped suddenly Thursday evening, and at nine o'clock stood at forty, and sank still lower during the night. Considerable snow fell, and ice formed before morning. The peach and other fruit buds were beginning to swell and considerable apprehension for the safety of the fruit crop was manifested, but so far as we have been able to ascertain no serious damage has resulted. The chilly blasts from the north still exercise a depressing influence upon the mercury, which stood at forty degrees at nine o'clock last evening.

ABOUT five o'clock last evening as Mr. Vietmeyer, proprietor of a tavern on Penn avenue, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, entered his cellar, he discovered that the spiggots of a keg of brandy and a barrel of wine had been turned on, and that the liquor had all run out. He also discovered a colored boy lying dead drunk in another part of the cellar. An officer was notified, who secured a wheelbarrow, and "hauled" the boy to the station-house, and up to an early hour this morning he had not recovered from his stupor. It is supposed that the boy entered the cellar for the purpose of taking a drink, but drank too much, and become dead drunk, thus allowing all the liquor the barrels contained to run out.

A Severe Test.

A Fairbanks's Patent Iron Frame Railroad Track Scale, with a platform 123 feet long and 150 tons capacity, was built at Packerton, Pa., on the Lehigh Valley railroad, in 1868. The scale has been in constant use ever since that time. The Superintendent reports that, in the year 1870, cars loaded with coal were weighed amounting in the aggregate, including the cars, to 4,690,058 gross tons; or, deducting the cars, 2,810,020 gross tons of coal. This would require 281,002 cars of ten tons each, and in three hundred working days of ten hours each, it would give but thirty-eight seconds for weighing each car. To accomplish this enormous work, the scale is placed in an incline plane, down which the cars are run without an engine. The trains are "broken up" into sections of from three to six cars each, and allowed to pass over the scale at the rate of four or five miles per hour. The weight of the train is ascertained while thus in motion, by means of a patent beam located at the end of the scale—the weighmaster is not required to handle any weight. The train is "made up" and the engine attached after it passes the scale. After the scale had been subjected to this severe test, a "test car," loaded with sealed weights, was run on, and the scale was found to be in perfect order, and ready for another year's service without repairs. Parties in want of scales, will find it to their interest to call at No. 162 Second avenue, and examine the various sizes of scales the Company have for sale.

The Singer.

So much has been said in a general way of the superiority of the Singer Sewing Machine over its rivals that we propose to give, in detail, some of the points in which it excels:

First—It is a combination of all the advantages of other machines, avoiding their defects.

Second—It has a tension that will admit of any changes of needle, thread or goods, without adjustment. It is really self adjusting.

Third—It has less machinery than any other lock-stitch machine in the market, and requires no regulating or adjusting whatever.

Fourth—It has the shortest needles, which cannot well be set wrong, and which are perfectly straight.

Fifth—It requires no taking apart or lifting from the table to oil or clean.

Sixth—The length of stitch can be changed without reaching in among the machinery, endangering and oiling the hands, as is the case with all other shuttle machines.

Seventh—All other lock stitch machines require that the under thread be rewound from the spool on to a bobbin; a tedious process requiring considerable skill. If you have a Singer, you can buy your thread ready wound on wooden bobbins as cheaply as though you purchased the common spools and rewound.

Eighth—All the movable parts are made of highly polished steel.

Ninth—Its attachments for hemming, felling, &c., are thoroughly practical, and require as little skill to use them as is necessary to sew a straight seam on any other machine.

Persons who first examine the Singer cannot be induced to purchase any other kind.

It costs nothing to see the Singer in operation. It is sold on as favorable terms as any machine in the market, by Straw & Morton, No. 20 Sixth street.

Public Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Mrs. Georgie Dickson had an excellent audience at her benefit last night, yet not so large as her merits as a lady and an actress should have drawn out. "Caste," with Mrs. D. as Polly, was well acted throughout, as were also the other pieces on the programme.

To-night Messrs. Palmer and Crosby have a joint benefit, when Mr. W. H. Leake, well and favorably known to our citizens, will appear in the drama of "Nick of the Woods," and a new play by Mr. Bartley T. Campbell, a rising journalist of this city, entitled "The Wilderness, or One Hundred Years Ago," will be performed. Young Americus will give violin solos also. We hope Messrs. Palmer and Crosby may have a large audience.

At the matinee this afternoon, "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be performed, with the added attraction of Young Americus. Miss Lizzie Bernard, an actress of the Lotta school, will appear on Monday evening.

OPERA HOUSE.—One of Maffit and Bartholomew's best pantomimes will be performed at the matinee at the old Opera House this afternoon, with an interesting selection of acts by the regular company. In the evening a very choice bill will be presented, including a pungent pantomime, singing, dancing, farce, etc. Go early if you desire a seat.

VARIETIES.—The popular Saturday matinee will be given at this house this afternoon, and the Alhambra brunette and blonde troupe will appear, in conjunction with Charley Howard, Harrigan and Hart, J. S. Berry, the Ravenes, and the remainder of the great variety company. In the evening a grand performance may be expected.

"THE GOOD FIGHT."—This is the title of a military drama in four acts, a production of the joint efforts of Mr. J. Newton Gotthold and Mr. William C. Smythe, of this city. It was written for Post 157, Grand Army of the Republic, and will be produced at Mr. Beamer's Opera House on Monday evening, April 3d.

JUVENILE CONCERT.—Professor Kemmerer, the Paisley family and Mr. Charles Murdoch, assisted by two hundred school children, will give a concert at the Academy of Music on Monday evening. This will no doubt be a very interesting affair. The children have been in training for some time past, and are said to sing well together.

HANDSOME CARRIAGES.—Stoner & Mariatt, 167, 169 and 171 Penn street, have on hand a large and handsome stock of well made and stylish carriages, which they are selling lower than any house in this city. They make all from the very best material, and warrant to give entire satisfaction. If you want a light wagon or a family carriage, call on them.

THE DOUBLE BABY.

Pittsburghers Will Have a Chance to See It.

Everybody has read accounts of that most singular freak of nature, the double child, born some months since in Morrow county, Ohio. By the following dispatch received yesterday, it will be seen that our enterprising friend, Major Burnell, has secured it for his already attractive Museum:

CINCINNATI, March 24.—The agent of Burnell's Museum, at Pittsburgh, has just secured the great living curiosity, "The Double Babe," at the enormous cost of $500 per week.

ALLEGHENY.

ITEMS IN BRIEF.

THE net proceeds of the fair lately held in this city under the auspices of Post No. 88, G. A. R., for the benefit of the widows and orphans of deceased soldiers, was $3,750 30.

THE three parties arrested a few days ago on a charge of interfering with an officer, Nicholas Trautman, prosecutor, already reported, had a hearing last night which resulted in the acquittal of two of the defendants, and the remaining one, William Schanke, was fined thirty dollars and costs.

A FIRE broke out yesterday afternoon about four o'clock, in the smoke house of Geo. Hart, a butcher, doing business in Madison avenue, near the Grant engine house. Word was sent to the Grant company, and the firemen repaired to the place and soon succeeded in extinguishing the flames. Loss slight. No alarm was sounded.

THAT desirable lot, 50 by 127 feet, located on the corner of North avenue and Boyle street, was sold yesterday at auction by Mr. Leggate, realizing the handsome sum of $16,500, cash down. Property fronting the park has increased wonderfully in value since the improvements were commenced, and still has an upward tendency.

WILLIS LANGERFIELD, a colored man, was employed on yesterday by John Lutton, who resides on North Canal street, to do a job of whitewashing, but after working a few hours complained of sickness and went home. He had no sooner left the house than an overcoat valued at twenty-eight dollars was missing, and Mr. Lutton proceeded to the Mayor's office and lodged an information of larceny against him. The accused was arrested, and is now in the lock-up awaiting a hearing. The overcoat was recovered by Chief Clark at a pawn shop on Sixth street, Pittsburgh.

JOHN DUFFY, an insane person, entered a saloon on Ohio street yesterday afternoon shortly after two o'clock, and commenced to act in a very disorderly manner. A policeman was called in and conveyed him to the lock-up. He remained very quiet an hour or two, when he took an epileptic fit, and after he recovered from the attack, again commenced to act in a boisterous manner, screaming to the top of his voice, and attacking every one he would come in contact with. From papers found in his possession it is supposed that he was from Sharon, Ohio. He is about thirty-five years of age, and says that he arrived in the city only a day or two ago.

FIRE MARSHAL BUTLER yesterday investigated the fire which occurred in this city Thursday evening, and reports the total loss to be $85,000. The loss of James Howard, Esq., reaches $60,000, upon which there is an insurance of $25,000, distributed equally in the following companies: Delaware, Hanover, of New York; Cleveland, of New York; Hartford, of New York; North American, of Philadelphia; Enterprise, of Cincinnati; Pacific, of San Francisco, and the Allegheny, Cash and Pittsburgh, of this place. The loss of the Messrs. Pattersons, he reports, is $25,000, with an insurance of $5,000 in the following companies: National, of Allegheny, $2,000; Pennsylvania, $2,000, and the Ben Franklin, $1,000. Messrs. D. L. Patterson & Co. are refitting their old saw-mill, and will be able to commence operations in the early part of next week.

Resisting an Officer.

Officer Miller, of the Mayor's police, yesterday afternoon proceeded to the office of Alderman McMasters, of Pittsburgh, to arrest Louis Sadler at the close of a suit in which he was the defendant. An information for seduction had been made against him before the Mayor. The suit ended, officer Miller showed him the warrant, and notified him that he must accompany him to the office. Sadler complied, and two of his friends accompanied him. When the party reached the middle of the Hand street bridge, Henderson Weis, one of the friends of the prisoner, and who was walking just behind the officer, dealt him a severe blow on his cheek, inflicting a severe wound. The officer was so stunned that he let the prisoner go, but soon recovered and fired at the prisoner, but the revolver did not go off. Weis now took hold of the officer's arms so as to prevent him firing again. The prisoner by this time was out of sight, and after a severe tussel succeeded in arresting Weis and conveyed him to the lock-up. Last night he had a hearing, and was fined thirty dollars and costs, or if the fine is not paid to-day, will be committed to the work-house for ninety days.

The West End Avenue.

Another meeting of property owners interested in the proposed West End avenue, was held in the Bellevue school house, Thursday evening, for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee appointed at a previous meeting, on the bill which has been introduced in the Legislature. The committee reported numerous amendments to the bill, and the discussion which ensued was exceedingly spicy and at times very personal in its character. The property holders were nearly all present, and the provisions of the act were fully considered. At a late hour the meeting adjourned until next Monday evening, at which time the committee to whom the bill was recommitted will present a final report, and definite action taken on the matter.

Fire This Morning.

This morning about one o'clock a fire broke out in the engine room of the coke works of Messrs. G. A. L. Moul, located on River avenue, Eighth ward. The fire spread rapidly, and soon the engine house, which was a frame structure, was beyond the control of the firemen and was totally destroyed. The firemen succeeded in confining the flames to the building in which it originated, and soon extinguished the fire. The loss will reach $2,500. We did not learn the origin of the fire.

Something entirely new in this market, are prepared with great care, at Marvin's bakery, 91 and 93 Liberty street. For sale by grocers generally.

From Prof. J. A. Dunbar, of the Linnean Academy and Normal Seminary, Canonsburg, Pa.

CANONSBURG, PA., December 24, 1870.

MR. T. S. HODGSON—Dear Sir: I desire to testify to the good qualities of your Embrocation. For many years my father has suffered much from rheumatism, and after using various medicines and receiving no relief from them, I persuaded him to try your Embrocation. The use of the first bottle fully convinced him of its wonderful power, and after continuing its use for a short time, but, I believe in all, only using three or four bottles, he felt himself entirely cured. For over two years he has been perfectly free from this disease, and is all thankfulness, I attribute his cure solely to the use of your Embrocation, and would recommend all those afflicted with this disease to try it. J. A. DUNBAR, Jr.

Bohn's Libraries.

This series of books was undertaken with the view of presenting to the educated public, works of a deservedly established character, accurately printed and carefully edited, and at the lowest prices that can remunerate the publisher.

The spirit and intelligence displayed in the selection and editing of the works composing the various series is so generally acknowledged that they now stand at the head of all publications of the class, and are known and valued throughout Europe and America.

For the libraries of public institutions, lyceums, colleges, schools, &c., they are especially adapted, from affording the greatest possible amount of valuable matter at a price that renders them the cheapest and best standard works extant. The leading works in the various libraries cannot be got in any other shape, as many of the classics and foreign authors are now first translated specially for the publishers, and most of the standard works of history and literature being reproductions, in an improved form, of scarce old editions, entirely out of print.

Pittock, of "the Corner Book Store," opposite to the postoffice, has added to his collection of English books a large and well selected assortment of Bohn's books, to which he directs the attention of literaties, librarians, students and book buyers generally.

Classified catalogues of Bohn's libraries can be obtained gratis upon application at "the Corner Book Store."

1. Over Two Thousand Miles of Road, with Rolling Stock, Buildings, and all other equipments.
2. Over Twenty-two Thousand Acres of Land to every mile of finished road. This land, agricultural, timbered and mineral, amounting in all to more than Fifty Million Acres, consists of alternate sections, reaching twenty to forty miles on each side of the track, and extending in a broad fertile belt from Wisconsin through the rich portions of Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington, to Puget Sound.
While the Government does not directly guarantee the bonds of the Road, it thus amply provides for their full and prompt payment by an unreserved grant of land, the most valuable ever conferred upon a great national improvement.
THE MORTGAGE.—The Trustees under the Mortgage are Messrs. Jay Cooke of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company. They will directly and permanently represent the interests of the First Mortgage bond holders, and are required to see that the proceeds of land sales are used in purchasing and cancelling the bonds of the Company if they can be bought before maturity at not more than 10 per cent. premium; otherwise the Trustees are to invest the proceeds of land sales in United States Bonds or Real Estate Mortgages for the further security of Northern Pacific bondholders. Also, that they have at all times their control, as security, at least 500 acres of average land to every $1,000 of outstanding first mortgage bonds, besides the railroad itself and all its equipments and franchises.
PROFITABLENESS.—Of course nothing can be safer than the bonds of the United States, but as the Government is no longer a borrower, and as the Nation's present work is not that of preserving its existence, but that of DEVELOPING A CONTINENT, we remind those who desire to increase their income and obtain a more permanent investment, while still having a perfectly reliable security that:
United States 5-20's at their average premium yield the present purchaser less than 5½ per cent. gold interest. Should they be redeemed in five years, and specie payments be resumed, they could really pay only 4½ per cent., or if in three years, only 3½ per cent., as the present premium would meanwhile be sunk.
Northern Pacific 7-30's selling at par in currency yield the investor 7 3-10 per cent. gold interest absolutely for thirty years, free from United States tax. $1,100 currency invested now in United States 5-20's will yield per year in gold, say $62 00. $1,100 currency invested now in Northern Pacific 7-30's will yield per year in gold $80 30. Here is a difference in annual income of nearly one-third, besides a difference of 7 to 10 per cent. in principal, when both classes of bonds are redeemed.
THE ROAD NOW BUILDING.—Work was begun July last on the eastern portion of the line, and the money provided, by the sale to stockholders of some six millions of the Company's Bonds, to build and equip the road from Lake Superior across Minnesota to the Red River of the North—223 miles. The grading on this division is now well advanced, the iron is being rapidly laid; several thousand men are at work on the line, and about the first of August next this important section of the road will be in full operation. In the meantime orders have been sent to the Pacific coast for the commencement of the work on the western end in early spring, and thereafter the work will be pushed, both eastward and westward, with as much speed as is consistent with solidity and a wise economy.
RECEIVABLE FOR LANDS.—These Bonds will be at all times, before maturity, receivable, at 1.10, in payment for the Company's lands, at their lowest cash price.
BONDS EXCHANGEABLE.—The registered bonds can be exchanged at any time for coupons, the coupons for registered, and both these can be exchanged for others, payable, principal and interest, at any of the principal financial centers of Europe, in the coin of the various European countries.
HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these Bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other bonds for these, can do so with any of our agents, who will allow the highest current price for all marketable securities.
Those living in localities remote from Banks may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific Bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor. For further information, pamphlets, maps, etc., call on or address the undersigned, or any of the Banks or Bankers employed to sell this loan.
"After thorough investigation, we have accepted agency for the sale of these popularly approved Bonds, and confidently recommend them to our customers and investors generally."
